N. E. CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Talented young people from every part of the world come to Boston to take advantage of the musical facilities of the New England Conservatory of Music whose fifty-first season opens on September 20 next. Nothing has been more remarkable in the growth of this great institution, undoubtedly the best equipped in the world for an all around musical education, than the spread of its reputation in all quarters of the globe.

In one season Conservatory students were registered from the following foreign countries in addition to the several provinces of British North America which always contributes a large quota: China, Costa Rica, Cuba, Denmark, England, France, Germany, Greece, Hawaii, India, Jamaica, Japan, Mexico, New Zealand, Philippines, Russia. In the 1917 graduating class

Kolar Town, India, while one of the most prominent violinists of the class was a young lady from British Columbia.

While the New England Conservatory draws its students from every part of the world it quite naturally does not suffer from lack of estimation at home. Something over two thousand students, in a typical year's enrollment, are from the New England states which for more than half a century have been loyal supporters of America's oldest and largest conservatory.

At the Show Rooms of McKenney & Waterbury Co., Franklin St., corner Congress, Boston, there is on exhibition the grandest display of Electric and Gas Lighting Fixtures, shown in parlors, all lighted to give desired effect to meet any requirements for homes and public buildings. You are welcome at the exhibition.

A CLEVER IDEA

Newton Women to Work for Men Under Lieut. Bruce R. Ware, Jr.

The month of September will be a busy one for the knitters of Newton. In addition to the 4,000 articles needed for the Red Cross, a call has come of special local interest. All Newton remembers the pride with which we learned that America's first shot at a submarine was fired by one of our own "boys," Lieut. Bruce R. Ware. Lieut. Ware is now navigator and gunnery officer on one of the German ships going into commission as an American transport. The suggestion has been made through the Newton branch of the Special Aid that it would be a rather splendid thing for the women of Newton to undertake the outfitting of the crew serving under Lieut. Ware. He himself was most gratified at the idea, as the following extracts from his letters show:—"It will be fine to be able to distribute an allotment from my own city. Newton fired the first shot—let her fit out the crew of the first ex-German ship—American transport—to be fitted out and ready." "We are going to be able to carry many a soldier—and the added protection that will result from the matter of your letter—(warmly clothed gun crews and lookouts) will play a most important part in their safe transportation."

About 1400 articles are needed this month—socks, sweaters (as many as possible of heavy wool) and mufflers, made according to the special directions which may be obtained from headquarters of the various aid societies. Wrists and knitted gloves will be needed later.

The heads of the various service organizations strongly approve the plan of Newton's undertaking this work. If every knitter does her share it can be easily accomplished, and the service of a Newton man and his crew made more effective.

TACT

Winifred Virginia Jordan

There are some people that we meet In every walk of life, Who seem to cumber up the street, And be with friction rife; For instance, we have bread and meat, And offer them a share; They tell us cake is hard to beat, And scorn our plainer fare!

Now, how much better we would feel Had they made use of Tact, And spoken kindly of our meal— Had been polite in fact! We all can't be born diplomats, But we at least can try. To be unlike the stinging gnats— Use Tact—as days go by!

NEW BATHHOUSE READY

Bathing Facilities Furnished at Allison Park, Nonantum.

The new bath house on the Allison Playground on the Charles River in Nonantum was finished last week by the contractors and was put into commission at once by the Playground Commission. This bath house will meet a great need of this locality.

During July and August the weekly attendance at this beach ran as high as 3000 per week. The attendance thus far has been restricted to boys and men only, and the average attendance per week was about 1000. With the completion of the bath house it will now be possible to devote certain days for girls and women, which will make the attendance much higher. The Playground Commission has spent considerable time in improving the beach which now has clean sand all along the part which is used. The bottom of the River has been thoroughly scraped and the water is in good condition. The place is beautifully shaded in some spots and offers an ideal place for the people of this district. Naturally supervision at this point and the conveniences now open to the public there will make hundreds of bathers, who formerly travelled to Crystal Lake and other parts of Newton, stay at home.

The bath house consists of three parts. The centre part of the building, 12 x 24, is of reinforced concrete with separate toilet facilities for men and women. This cement structure is flanked by two wooden wings, one with individual dressing rooms and the other is one large dressing room. Each wing is 14 x 32. The reason for having the centre part of the building made of concrete is on account of the need of having such parts fire proof, frost proof, and fool proof. Another reason is that in case a larger structure is needed, the toilet structure can be used as a part of the old building or as a part of the main building.

The building will accommodate about 100 people at one time. It is also going to be used as a toilet building for playground purposes and in connection with baseball games played on the Allison diamond which is becoming more and more of a place for local baseball contests. The cost of the building is $2300.00.

EDITORIAL

With the ripening of the fruits and vegetables on which so many of our people have been expending their time and money the past few months, the city faces its usual situation of suffering from the depredations of the small boy, certain elements of our foreign population and plain ordinary thieves. The many small gardens, most of which are unfenced offer unusual facilities for this aggravating condition, and make the police almost helpless in the line of protection. Every housekeeper can help a little, however, if they will refuse to purchase vegetables offered for sale at the door, especially by small boys, or by men who are not properly licensed as peddlers by the board of health. If the market for stolen produce can be curtailed in this manner, there will be less inducement for thieving.

Party government in state and national affairs seems absolutely necessary, otherwise there would be no responsibility for legislation and executive action. And party government in order to be effective must have the absolute loyalty of all its candidates. Candidates who refuse to accept the party verdict as expressed at a primary election, relinquish all rights and claims on other members of the party, and should be ignored by the party leaders until they have re-established their party fealty. In this connection it should be recalled that Representative Henry W. Jarvis bolted the party nomination last year.

There has been a lamentable lack of interest in the offer of the State Guard of this city to give the drafted men as much instruction in military drill as possible, before they are called to duty at Ayer. The officers of the State Guard are giving five evenings a week to this work at the State Armory and the drafted men are losing a valuable opportunity for instruction which would be of great benefit to them in the future.

The women of Newton have undertaken a most commendable task in providing woolen clothing for the men under command of Lieut. Bruce R. Ware, Jr., of this city, who fired the first American shot against a German submarine. There is sentiment as well as patriotism in work of this kind.

As the local news distributor of the community for thirty years, Mr. I. B. Harrington has performed a trying task with faithfulness and efficiency and deserves the well earned rest which his retirement from active business will bring to him.

With two deaths already of men enlisted from this city in the military service of the country, the business of war begins to come home to residents of this city as never before.

State politics are a drag on the market this fall. Who cares?

DRILL FOR DRAFTED MEN

It seems unfortunate that more of the drafted and accepted men are not taking advantage of the instruction offered them by the State Guard. Captain John C. deMille, Commanding the Newton Company, State Guard, informs me that although his officers and non-commissioned officers are on duty every night in the week except Saturdays and Sundays, a comparatively few men have presented themselves for military instruction. It will save these men much of the hardship due to lack of knowledge of the elementary principles of military training when they arrive at Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass., if they have availed themselves of this opportunity. Will you not impress upon these men through your columns the advantages of this opportunity?

Very truly yours,
JAS. G. WHITE,
Vice-President Newton Committee on Public Safety, and Chairman Military Committee

BUSINESS MAN RETIRES

Mr. Isaac B. Harrington, for thirty years the proprietor of the local newspaper in Newton, has sold his business to Mr. Frank J. Perry of Brighton, who took possession last Sunday.

Mr. Harrington bought the business from his brother-in-law, Mr. Fred C. Morgan in 1887 and has, with the exception of a few months, always kept it in its present location in Coles Block.

He is a native of Weston, Mass., and 66 years of age. He is a member of Dalhousie lodge of Masons, Commonwealth Lodge I. O. O. F. of Boston, Newton Lodge of Elks, and the Newton Board of Trade.

Mr. Harrington resides on Church street, Newton, with his wife and daughter, Mrs. Walter Moore. He retires to enjoy a well earned rest.

Mr. Perry, the new proprietor, was for fifteen years connected with the Postal station at the North station in Boston, and his fellow employees presented him with a beautiful basket of gladioli, which was on exhibition for several days this week.

Considerable interest has been aroused in the matter of teaching of citizenship which was made compulsory by the last legislature. In this connection it will be recalled that some work on this line has already been done in this city and the following opinion of Mr. Everett E. Kent, a member of the school committee and the reports of the work done in the schools have considerable bearing on the subject.

Mr. Kent's Opinion

June 26, 1917.

Mr. U. G. Wheeler, Supt. of Schools, Newtonville, Mass.

Dear Mr. Wheeler:—

I enclose a copy of the Massachusetts law approved April 11, 1917, being Chapter 169 of the Acts of 1917, entitled, "An Act to Provide for Training in the duties of Citizenship in the Public Schools." You will note that it says that the public schools "shall give instruction in training in the duties of citizenship." The whole sentence is: "Such schools shall be taught by teachers of competent ability and good morals, and shall give instruction in orthography, reading, writing, the English language, and grammar, geography, arithmetic, drawing, the history of the United States, training in the duties of citizenship, physiology and hygiene, and good behavior." The act goes into effect August 1, 1917.

"Civil Government" Not Meant

At the last meeting of the school committee, you mentioned that one of the principals had suggested that the instruction now given in civil government might be a compliance with this law. Consideration of the statute shows that that is not so. Aside from the very obvious difference in meaning between "training in the duties of citizenship" and the phrase "civil government", the statute itself clearly separates them by making the "training" compulsory, while it makes the teaching of "civil government" merely permissive. It is, I believe, a well established principle of legal interpretation that a statute must be construed so that all parts of it shall be consistent with one another, if that be possible, and so that each shall have its own natural meaning, and effect, if that be possible. The use of these two phrases in the same section of the law shows that they mean different things.

"Training" Has Specific Meaning

It has been reported to me that someone said that a school which teaches its pupils arithmetic is training them in the duties of citizenship. If that was ever said, it must have been in pleasant company, for the stamping its author as an incompetent. While it is true that the practice of arithmetic and of hygiene and of good behavior and the knowledge of the United States history, not to say the teaching of reading, do in a sense train a child in the duties of citizenship, that is not what the statute means. For the statute already requires all of these things before this amendment was made, and now as amended, requires the "training" in the duties of citizenship in addition to them. Moreover, the word "training" has a very specific meaning, distinct from that mere instruction in book or mental knowledge about government which is ordinarily signified by the instruction in "civil government". As a matter of fact, we all know, and the history of the proceedings shows, that the Legislature intended by this peculiar wording to specify that system of actual training in developing a sense of civic responsibility, through actual experience as citizens in school republics, which has been introduced to us by Mr. Gill.

I am glad that the Legislature has enacted this law. I think it especially appropriate that the schools should not longer delay giving adequate attention to this very important aspect of the preparation of our youth for adult life. Now that our whole country is at war for the maintenance of "democracy", it is none too early to introduce the practical aspects of the subject into our curriculum—with the emphasis on the practice—for, after all, mankind is a creature of habit, and whatever habit is acquired in youth prevails through life.

I earnestly want the young people of Newton to have the advantage of this training.

Yours very truly,

EVERETT E. KENT.

Stearns School

Grade 8. February, 1917. It is with pleasure that I submit the following report upon the working of the School Republic in the Stearns School.

Last Spring Mr. Gill started us upon the Republic plan with a National, State and City organization. Owing to the approach of graduation, with its many extra duties, very little was accomplished—nothing except with "Man." Sunday School, 10:45 A. M. Testimonial meeting Wednesday 8 P. M. The public is cordially invited to attend the services and to use the Reading Room at 297 Walnut Street, Newtonville, which is open daily from 2 to 6 in the afternoon.

Mr. Prince Hawes, one of the assistant bank examiners of the Boston district was so seriously injured in an automobile accident last Friday evening, that he died on Saturday at the Newton Hospital.

Mr. Hawes, who was riding a motorcycle on Commonwealth avenue near Grant avenue, Newton Centre, collided with a touring car owned by Mr. Louis K. Liggett of Chestnut Hill, and driven by his chauffeur, Patrick Colgan.

Mr. Hawes was picked up unconscious and with both legs broken and taken to the Hospital in the police ambulance. He was 34 years of age and resided at 903 Beacon street, Boston.

working out of details and no one was assigned to help.

Pupils' Interest Aroused

The pupils' interest was aroused however and prospects were bright for the coming Fall.

The opening of the Newton schools was delayed, naturally postponing the School Republic plan.

In November seven rooms were organized and Mr. Gill started the National and State systems. No system of following up the work in our school has been devised, so it has been left entirely in the hands of each teacher—who has been her own inspiration and guide.

In the eighth grade we have made great use of this self-government scheme. We have seen, in these few months, a wonderful development of self-control, of judgment of offenses and of respect for the rights of others. Individuals who have laughed and hindered in many ways at first now are respectful at court sessions—they are beginning to worry about their court record.

A New Field in Education

There are two kinds of discipline possible in the schoolroom, teacher discipline—the Absolute Monarchy, and pupil participation in government—the Republic. Young people are reasoning and reasonable animals, responding to responsibility when it is placed upon them. Mr. Gill's plan of "Moral and Civic Training," I believe offers a new field in education, the surface of which has scarcely been scratched. Any teacher who can find time to "put his hand to the plow" will find himself or herself reaping a harvest of results in a few weeks.

I can say most heartily that I will be glad to do my small share at any time or place to push a work Mr. Gill has so well begun.

Respectfully,

WALTER G. BUTLER.

Mr. Butler's report of June 27, 1917, confirms his February report, with added emphasis and enthusiasm.

Horace Mann School

Grade 2. March, 1917

Since my room was organized as a School City we are all co-operating to make "Sunshine City" bright, cheerful, clean, healthy and orderly.

Although my children are too young to carry on the Government to any great extent, they are endeavoring to make useful, responsible and desirable citizens of themselves.

We have two Health Commissioners who inspect the hands, hair, shoe-strings, blouse strings and neckties of the citizens each morning.

The Park Commissioner waters plants, and reminds me to feed and water the fishes each day. I do not like to have a child lift the glue to do it himself, so his responsibility is to see that I do not forget them.

Our Highway Commissioner helps by inspecting the floor at the end of each session to see that letters, numbers, etc., are all picked up.

The Commissioner of Efficiency dusts, keeps books, papers, and boxes picked neatly on tables.

We have a Captain of the Cloak Rooms who looks them over at the beginning of sessions to see that hats, coats, rubbers, and umbrellas are in their proper places. He does not pick up other children's things, but reports to me, if there is trouble, and the owner attends to his own belongings.

The Blackboard Commissioner is faithful in his work, and the Hospital Commissioner is a committee of one to see that visitors are made welcome with a chair and book.

I find that children do not consider these "Officers" as "bossing" them or "telling tales", but, even at this young age, have a certain pride in not being reported and show great appreciation when I commend them as "Good Citizens".

MILLER-MEANEY

First Lieut. Buckingham Miller of Newton Highlands, of the 23d United States Engineer Corps, at Camp Mead, Annapolis, was married on Tuesday afternoon to Miss Alice E. Meaney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Meaney of 35 Pearl street Somerville.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Edward P. Murphy at the parochial residence of St. Benedict's Church, East Somerville.

Second Lieut. Hiram A. Miller, Jr., of the U. S. Field Artillery, brother of the groom, was best man, and Miss Agnes Katherine Meaney, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The bridegroom and best man both wore their uniforms.

Lieut. and Mrs. Miller have gone to Annapolis, where the bridegroom is to rejoin his command. He is a graduate of the Newton High School and was graduated from Yale in 1910. CROOK—CLARK

A wedding of interest on Saturday was that of Miss Lucy Mildred Clark, daughter of Mr. James E. Clark of Claremont street, Newton, and Rev. Wilfrid Harris Crook, assistant minister at the Central Congregational Church, Boston.

The wedding took place at "Miloheim" the beautiful summer home of the bride at Lake Sunapee, N. H., and was a very quiet affair only a few relatives living in the vicinity being present.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Willard Sperry, pastor of Central Congregational Church.

The bride was charming in a simple wedding gown of white brocade satin and carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas.

The rooms were artistically decorated with ground-pine in effective combination with autumn flowers. An informal reception was held immediately after the ceremony and the bride and bridegroom were assisted in receiving by Mr. Clark the bride's father and her brother, Mr. Lomax Clark.

The bride is a graduate of Radcliffe College, Class of 1914, of which she was class marshal and since leaving college has been director of Ingleside Home School, Revere Beach, Dennison Settlement House, and Newton Circle; is chairman of the Newton Young People's Forum Committee, and chairman of the Newton Suffrage Association. Ward L. Crook, chairman with Mr. Winslow of the Stearns School and of the Newton Moving Picture Censorship Committee; president of the Eliot Young People's Christian Association and an active member of the Boston Equal Suffrage Association, Massachusetts Branch of the Woman's Peace Party, the League for Democratic Control (Free Speech Committee), and the Woman's Trade Union League.

Mr. Crook graduated with honors at Lincoln College, Oxford, England, and was a post-graduate student at Manchester College, Oxford, where he held the degree of the ministry. He held the Hibbert traveling scholarship for 18 months in the Graduate School of Economics at Harvard and became assistant minister to Rev. Willard Sperry at Central Congregational Church, Boston, in September, 1916.

Mr. Crook is deeply interested in Sociological and International problems and has done much public speaking on those questions. He was for some time executive secretary of the League for Democratic Control, and is a member of the Editorial Board of the "Forward" published by the League.

Mr. Crook's sister, Rev. Margaret B. Crook, is the only qualified woman minister in Great Britain.

O'NEIL—KENNA

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Bernard's Church last Monday morning at 9 o'clock, when Miss Mary E. Kenna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Kenna of 156 River street, West Newton, became the bride of Mr. John L. O'Neil, son of Mrs. Marie O'Neil of Draper street, Dorchester, the wedding ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. Fr. John F. Kelleher, while the nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. John McCarthy of Claremont, N. H., a cousin of the bride.

The bride wore a becoming gown of white Duchesse satin trimmed with pearl trimmings and carried a shower bouquet. The maid of honor, Miss Lucy M. Kenna, wore peach colored crepe de chine trimmed with tulle and a large hat to match and carried a bouquet of sunburst roses, while the bride's maids were Miss Lillian Kenna, youngest sister of the bride and Miss Anna O'Neil, youngest sister of the groom, who were prettily attired in yellow crepe de chine dresses and wore large black picture hats. Mr. James Delaney of Dorchester, cousin of the groom, was the best man. The ushers were Mr. William Lynch of Dorchester and Mr. John Markey of Charlestown.

The bride is one of the best known young ladies of this section, having graduated from the Newton High School with high honors in the class of 1908 and for the past three years been private secretary to a prominent Boston attorney. The groom holds a government position at the Emigration Station at Long Wharf, and also teaches evening school at the Roxbury High.

The church was crowded to the doors with both friends of the bride and groom, among them being many employees of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway Company.

After an extended wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil will be at their new home, after November 1st, 159 Newberg street, Roslindale, the groom's gift to the bride.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY

$1,000,000 For Soldiers' Libraries

The American Library Association, at the request of the War Department, is organizing the libraries throughout the country, to assist in raising a million dollars for library facilities in training camps and front-line units. It is proposed to have a week's campaign, beginning September 24, in which to raise the fund.

In recent communication sent out to the various public libraries by Mr. Charles F. D. Belden, Librarian of the Boston Public Library and Chairman of the Massachusetts committee on the organization of the work, it is stated that "Massachusetts leads in libraries and books and the authorities at Washington look to us to maintain not only the prestige of the commonwealth, but to aid materially other sections of the country less fortunate in libraries and wealth."

"All camp libraries are to be equally equipped and administered and Massachusetts men in service will find the best library facilities in whatever part of the country it may be their fortune to be quartered. Later, if necessary, libraries will be established overseas for the men of America."

"The incalculable value of suitable books for soldiers has been definitely established, not only abroad, but also in the home camps, where, up to the present, they have been in charge of the Y. M. C. A., or other associations, as a side issue. Experience has shown that good camp libraries serve as a preventive and counteraction for dissipation of all kinds. It is submitted that if libraries play their part in this campaign, they will be recognized as never before as a power for good."

"The Free Library Commission of Massachusetts, the executive committee of the Massachusetts Library Club and prominent Massachusetts librarians and trustees are giving every encouragement to the movement. A New England war library conference will be held under the direction of the Massachusetts Library Club and the Free Public Library Commission at the Boston Public Library, on Tuesday, Sept. 11."

Rain

Old Jupiter Pluvius takes fiendish delight in ruining poorly protected buildings. At every little crack or bare spot in the paint, the rain soaks in and spreads rot through the wood.

To last, your buildings must be as waterproof as a staunch boat. They will be, if well coated with paint made of Dutch Boy White-Lead thinned with pure linseed oil. Such paint gives a smooth, weatherproof surface that will not crack or scale. It gives beauty, also.

Before the next rain, call on us about painting and painting materials. We expect you. If you can't call, phone or write.

—Mr. Harlan O. Crowell, social secretary at the Second Church, sailed for France last Tuesday afternoon as a Y. M. C. A. secretary for the troops at the front.

—The Italian Men's Club and the Italian Band have been meeting during the summer in the rooms of the new Second Church and have been well attended.

—Prof. H. P. Talbot of this village has been appointed a member of a special committee to investigate the matter of defective ammunition turned out at the Frankfort Arsenal.

—Mr. and Mrs. Enoch C. Adams and Miss Katharine Adams of Lenox street returned Tuesday from Camp Tacoma, Belgrade Lakes, Maine, where they passed the summer season.

—Mr. and Mrs. Willard C. Warren and Miss Margaret Warren of Lenox street returned Wednesday by motor from a three months' stay at Camp Tacoma, Belgrade Lakes, Maine.

—Newton Co-Operative Bank, over $1,000,000 assets. Pays 5% interest. 59th Series. September shares now on sale at 297 Walnut St., Newtonville, or 73 Tremont St., Boston. Advt.

—On Tuesday afternoon an automobile owned by Mr. W. W. Trowbridge and operated by James Dow ran into an electric car on River street near Smith court and was badly damaged.

—Capt. Robert H. George has been assigned to the 304th Regiment of Infantry at Ayer, 1st Lieut. Robert Baldwin to the 301st Regiment, and 2nd Lieut. A. R. Burnham has been assigned to the same regiment as a first lieutenant.

—He is a son of Mrs. Looze of Tacoma, Wash., and the late David A. Looze, and is a nephew of J. L. Looze and of J. S. Looze, both of Kansas City, Mo. The wedding is to take place in November.

—A simple home wedding took place on August 23rd at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eben L. Dyer of Shaw street, the occasion being the marriage of their daughter, Mildred Catharine, to Mr. Charles Henry Miliken of West Newton. The couple were attended by Master Burdett Williams of Windsor, Conn., a nephew of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Miliken spent their honeymoon at Bretton Woods and are now enjoying a trip touring the White Mountains.

They will be at home to their friends after October 1st, at 21 Shaw street.

—Another accident at that fearful danger point in our city is added to the long list which have taken place there. At the corner of Putnam and Margin streets, West Newton, there have been probably more smash-ups in the last ten years than anywhere else outside of the war zone. This time the electric light pole and letter-box was smashed in splinters and carried far into the adjoining lot and a Chandler car was badly damaged.

One resident who has seen scores of accidents there and many people hurt suggests the only solution of that bad combination of blind bridge, cross-streets and steep hill is to close Margin street to automobile traffic at that point. As there are two other bridges in that vicinity this would mean little hardship to anyone and save much destruction of human life and property.

The following letter from a Newton boy on the firing line will be of interest to many.

July 30, 1917, France

Dear Mother:

This letter will not be long as it will deal with only one day. That day was yesterday and when I finish you may agree that as a day it was quite some.

Section Sanitaire American 64—the "Flying Sixty-Fourth"—was just finishing déjeuner in the "salle a manger" of the "Tonneau d'Or" in —. It was half after eleven. The Chief of the Section rushed in. "Pack and prepare to leave in one hour," he said. Hurrying to barracks the men packed their baggage. They roll their blankets, folded neatly at the foot of their stretcher-beds—into a neat bundle. At noon twenty ambulances are drawn up in the square. The cars are neatly packed. The men are at the wheels ready to take their places in the convoy. There is a long whistle. Engines are started. One man stands before his car as a sign his car is ready. There is a short whistle. The cars move into convoy.

For sixty kilometers, over hills through villages, by fields cultivated and fallow, the cars go. At six o'clock they drive into the city of Vesoul, draw into a line along a park and wait for the Staff car to go ahead and arrange for quarters. It is Sunday and the cinema is over. The inhabitants of the city flock around to see "les Américains." They are first of their country to visit the city.

At seven there is another long whistle, then a short one. The cars start off again and back into places in a vacant lot. The "conducteurs" go forth to search something to eat. But they must return at ten for there is a night's work to be done.

At ten the men are again at their cars. It is raining—a heavy, big-dropped, penetrating rain. Lights are lighted and the cars slip off in a ghostly, red-crossed convoy of the night. At the railroad station there is a wait after the cars have been backed to the curb. The drivers try to snatch a bit of sleep.

There are three hundred wounded coming in from Verdun. They have been thirty hours on the train, badly wounded. They are coming back from the maw of death, from the heart of Hell.

There is a shrill toot of the French train. In a few moments the wounded "assis" come out. Some have bandaged feet, some empty sleeves, but they all can ride seated. There are flashes of electric torches in the sopping darkness. It is quiet as the "blesses" are handed into the ambulances. The backs of the cars are closed and the cars move off in the night. The city is tightly closed and sound asleep. At the lighted door of the hospital are two or three "brancardiers" and a red cross nurse. The men are taken in and the ambulances return.

Now come the "couches." There are white bandaged arms and legs. Faces bound in white. Gently the stretchers are slid into place, the back closed and the cars roll slowly off. Again at another hospital the men are taken out. I helped carry one man in. At the door a bearded doctor looks at the tag tied to the man's button. In the hospital are rows of high, four post beds. The white sheets are drawn back. Everything is clean and refreshing and sad. A white clad sister comes to the man on the stretcher. As he lifts himself her arm slips around him.

Thus until four in the morning we worked carrying our 300 maimed and tired men to a haven of rest. And as the hours go, one becomes more and more impressed by the utility of the whole thing. The childishness and wasteful unnecessary of war come to one. It makes one sick, not so much at the sight of torn and maimed, but at the reason for the suffering.

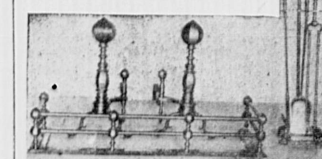

This is all for the time. We shall probably stay here to wait for our new cars and then move on again. I expected a letter from you written somewhere around the Fourth but it has not come.

Am well and happy, well situated.

Love to all,
Dick.

COPLEY THEATRE—Owing to the unprecedented demand for seats for "The Man Who Stayed at Home" the Copley Theatre management has felt it necessary to postpone the opening of the regular repertory season of the Henry Jewett Players and give four weeks more of this successful war play in order that all may have further opportunity of witnessing the hit of the season. The action of the play takes place in an English coast resort during the early months of the war and deals with the efforts of a band of German spies to prevent the English troops from crossing the channel to France. In this they are circumvented by Christopher Brent, the Secret Service of the British, "the man who stayed at home" who posing as a "silly ass" brings them to justice.

LEAVE FOR AYER

Seven Newton Young Men Have Gone. Local Board Clears Its Docket.

Newton's first contribution to the draft army now assembling at Ayer, were Messrs. Ernest J. Chadd of Church street, Newton, and John W. Dunn of Washington street, Lower Falls. These young men reported Wednesday morning at the office of the Local Board in the Police Court building and were congratulated by Mayor Childs in his usual felicitous manner on the spirit they had manifested in the whole matter. The men went to Ayer by automobile furnished by the Newton Committee on Public Safety. Yesterday morning, Messrs. Francis J. Martin of Ward street, Newton Centre and Charles A. Wilbur, Jr., of Waltham street, West Newton, reported and were taken to Ayer in Dr. West's automobile, accompanied by Mr. Bernard Early, clerk of the Board. Today Frederick H. Hughes of Park street, Newton, Harry Truckman of Adams street, Nonantum, and John J. Mahoney of Ripley street, Newton Centre were taken to the camp in the Police Department automobile. The next squad of men from this city are expected to leave about September 15th, and it is said that the District Board has cleared a list of 49 names for this duty, the details of which have not yet been received.

The Local Board has been cleaning up the tangled threads of the busy work of the past three weeks and states that it has approved the following claims for exemption:

3311 William A. Sullivan, 47 Arlington	340
1022 John E. Kelley, 1745 John R. Fanning, 29 Winona	365
1537 Henry D. Vandervyk, 80 Waltham	464
510 Walter Guy Butler, 49 Court	506
609 John J. Gaultier, 129 Brackett	541
1781 James H. Gardner, 50 Grove	608

The following claims have been denied and the names of the men placed on the rejected list:

2225 George O. Lavalley, 973 Chestnut	363
638 Knight Quincy, 230 Walnut	367
1057 Clement Patchett, 1505 Washington	408
679 Ernest E. Williams, 140 Jarrow	432
437 John M. Runne, 10 Remick	85

The following men who had not reported at the time designated, have appeared, been found physically qualified and have filed claims for exemption:

760 Max Keonig, 277 Walnut	331
2432 William A. Gorman, 225 Winchester	691

Peter Guzzi, of Oak avenue, West Newton, has withdrawn his claim for exemption and has been placed on the qualified list.

ONE'S POINT OF VIEW

Elihu Root expressed my convictions thoroughly when he said "There are men walking the streets of New York who ought to be taken out and shot, and there are newspaper editors who are daily guilty of treason."

It is time the people of the U. S. put an end to the influence of German money in this country by executing on the spot the distributors and receivers of such money. It is time, too, the mouths of many of the cranks, both men and women were shut up forever.

Mr. Wm. J. Bryan is one of the men who ought to be silenced; Thomas E. Watson is another, together with very many others.

The foolish band of suffragists, picketing the White House, bearing placards reading "Kaiser Wilson" ought to be spanked and sent home and kept there. Happily, they represent only a very small part of the devoted, patriotic suffragists of our country, who deeply regret the course pursued by the picketers.

The U. S. is the world's hope to conquer Germany and perpetuate free government, and we have our hands full to do the job.

I hope Pres. Wilson will have courage enough to establish order and peace in the U. S. If Hughes had been elected, we would now be in the midst of Civil war. Pres. Wilson by diplomacy, although opposed by a little band of foolish senators has accomplished a great deal; but the time is now at hand when stern measures should be taken.

DONTS AND THEIR OPPOSITES

Don't look upon Fall Cleaning with a long face.

Don't beat rugs. It weakens the weave and loosens the fibre.

Don't attempt to clean the blankets. It's not a housewife's job anyway.

Don't try to cleanse the curtains and draperies. It's a difficult task, requiring skill and patience.

Don't fool with naphtha over the Fall clothes. You've only one life to live.

Halladay's clever cleansing brings a smile that stays put. Try it.

Halladay's way restores rugs to their original color and freshness, with no harmful effects. Try it.

Halladay's know-how brings out blankets sweet and clean, soft and fluffy again. Try it.

Halladay's clever method brings back last season's garments to their former attractiveness.

How to Treat a Cut.

When you have a cut, a scratch, a bruise or any other kind of injury, paint it with iodine. As soon as injured, dip a toothpick with cotton rolled on the end of it in the iodine, and paint over the wound without washing. The iodine will kill all the germs in the dirt that gets into the wound, while washing only drives the germs farther into the flesh. When painted with the iodine, wrap the injured part in a clean cloth for a couple of days.

With a Torch on His Nose.

Of all the luminous varieties of fish the torchfish is one of the most unique. Upon its nose and erect upon a short stem, it has a small organ which is phosphorescent. This fish has the power to make glow at will.

Perrin Memorial M. E. Church of Lower Falls Plans an Interesting Celebration for Week of Sept. 23.

During the Civil War, the "Old Needham Circuit," faithfully served by itinerant Methodist preachers, had been given up. The little old meeting-house on the "West Side" had been standing until recent times, on Blossom street (Weston road) in Wellesley. When the war closed the scattered Methodist families in Need-not sufficiently well supported financially to pay expenses and warrant their continuance. Some families continued to go to Newton Upper Falls, and others attended the Natlek church. Noah Perrin, being thus left comparatively alone, concentrated his efforts in the Lower Falls section; and in April, 1867, services were held ham were attending the church at Newton Upper Falls. These families from West Needham and East Needham entertained the thought of either reviving the old Needham circuit or of establishing independent societies as their plans might best work out. Neighborhood prayer-meetings were held in West Needham (Wellesley), Grantville (Wellesley Hills), Lower Falls, (East) Needham, and Highlandville (Needham Heights), and from time to time services were also conducted by local preachers in Waban Hall, at the corner of Grove and Washington streets (Wellesley) in the room occupied alternate years by the West Division of the Needham High School; in Wales Tavern, a former stage and post station, standing at the junction of Wales and Washington streets in Newton Lower Falls; and in Neholden Hall in East Needham.

On the East side, the meetings at Highlandville and East Needham were concentrated at Neholden Hall. In West Needham, although the services were well attended, they were regularly Sunday afternoons in the hall of Wales Tavern.

A sort of "circuit" was established and Rev. John Wesley Coolidge, a retired preacher was invited to become the regular preacher in charge. He came from his farm in Leominster on Saturdays and staid the week-end at the home of Mr. Perrin in Grantville, who drove him on Sunday mornings to East Needham. Here Mr. Coolidge preached in the forenoon, and was afterwards brought by the same means of transportation to Wales Tavern, where he preached in the afternoon, and usually conducted a prayer-meeting in the evening. Frequently however, Mr. Coolidge returned to Highlandville for an evening service; though the society there was stronger, and having local preachers among its members did not so seriously need his help.

In July of the same year the Lower Falls society rented the newly-built Boyden Hall (Early Hall), which Mr. Boyden (who lived on the Falls hill in Grantville) had furnished in a dignified and commodious manner. Here

A PERTINENT INQUIRY

Of What Value is the Newton Constabulary Without Arms?

To the Editor:

What do you think of the Home Guard or Constabulary movement in our city? I joined local company because I did not do my bit. Of course I had joined an Automobile Squadron, subscribed for Liberty bonds, etc., given to Red Cross and other things like Public Safety Committee funds. This did not seem to be enough for a patriotic citizen to do,

ALDERMEN RESUME SESSIONS

Garages and Gasoline Permits Meet Considerable Opposition

The board of aldermen resumed its regular sessions last Monday evening following the summer vacation. President Early was in the chair and three members, were absent, Aldermen Cobb, Cole and Tuttle.

Perfunctory hearings were held on petitions of E. P. Hurd 508 Walnut street, W. H. Brayton Co., 1645 Beacon street, H. W. Crowell, Needham street, and the Brae Burn Country Club, Fuller street, all to keep gasoline and on petition of the Telephone Co. for poles on Somerset road.

A hearing on petition of Oscar Johnson for a public garage on Irving street, Newton Centre, brought out strong remonstrance. Mr. Fulton represented the petitioner and H. J. Kellaway led the remonstrants who included Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. McCullough, Mr. Barry and Mr. Ireland. Mr. Barry brought out the fact that there were 86 children in the immediate neighborhood and Mr. Ireland said that the neighborhood was already "over-garaged."

Mayor Childs sent many recommendations including $3000 additional for New Sidewalks to be paid in bonds, $300 for work on the military draft, $200 for wear and tear on city flags, additional money for clerk hire by the Forestry and Assessing Departments, $650 for improvements at City Home, $400 for painting Barnard school, $500 for heating at Auburndale Hose House, suggesting that Putnam street, West Newton, be made a one way street, submitting list of election officers, and transmitting report and plans of Lewis H. Bacon on the proposed remodeling of City Hall and the old church building.

Street Commissioner Stuart reported work done on Pleasant road at cost of $1058.88 and Pleasant road at cost of $4158.12, also concrete sidewalks on Walnut street, ward 5, costing $190.09, and on Maple street at cost of $105. Schedules of street sprinkling assessments were submitted by Street Commissioner Stuart and for moth work by Forest Commissioner Colton and adopted by the board.

Auctioneer licenses of D. B. Rich, Charles Scipione, and T. D. Murphy were renewed and licenses granted to W. H. McNaughton for a taxicab, James Bland for 1 wagon, W. L. McKenzie for 2 wagons, E. W. Pickersill for Common Vehicle at Newtonville and for box alleys to M. Farina Co. of Nonantum. Numerous permits to erect private garages were also granted.

Other petitions were received for sewers in Ashmont avenue, Hood street, Waverly place, John Lawson for wagon licenses, for sidewalk improvements on Walnut street, Newtonville, for laying out Westbourne road, for Edison attachments on California and Centre streets, for Edison and Telephone poles on Hammond street, for Telephone attachments on Wolcott street and claims for damages were filed by James T. Swan for defect in Commonwealth avenue, Mrs. T. G. Newey for defect in sidewalk on Elliot street, and from the Edison Co. for injury to conduits in Bigelow road.

Betterment assessments on estate of H. B. Williams on Beaumont avenue were apportioned into ten parts. On recommendations of committees

The Local Exemption Board has virtually concluded its labors, except what will be necessary to be done when the District Board sends out the various calls for the draft. The Local Board has passed 210 men for military duty and up to date the District board has exempted 20, leaving 190 at the present time, qualified for duty, more than sufficient to fill the quota of 147 assigned to this city. There are still some appeals for exemption and claims for industrial exemption before the District board, but it is very evident that there will be no further calls for physical examination, at least under the present call for men.

Of the twenty men exempted by the District board, 13 were on claims of dependency, and 7 for industry. The following were exempted for dependency:

NEWTON SCHOOLS RE-OPEN

Large Increase in Enrolment of Pupils over Last Year and More Expected to Come.

The Newton Public Schools opened last Monday with a full complement of teachers and with a large increase in enrolment over the figures of the first day of last year. It will be recalled, however, that the schools last year were not opened until October 1st, on account of the scare over infantile paralysis, and it is not fair to compare the two years on that account. The total enrolment is 6782 as compared with 6170 in 1916.

The Technical High school with 587 shows a gain of 42, while the Classical High with 767 loses 57, and the Vocational High with 244 loses 93 from last year. The Bigelow district with 587 is 157 over last year, the Newtonville district with 715 is 114 over, West Newton with 900 is 91 over, Nonantum with 665 is 27 over, Audubon with 511 is 30 over, Lower Falls with 76 is 4 less, Upper Falls with 415 is 16 over, Newton Highlands with 412 is 55 over, Waban with 155 is 8 over, and Newton Centre with 769 is 187 over.

Supt. of Schools Wheeler states that he expects about 70 boys who have been working on farms in Weston, Mass., and Walpole, N. H., to enter the schools within the next week or ten days, and that his experience shows there will be families constantly returning from vacations during the present month, so that several hundred more children will undoubtedly be in the schools by October 1st.

The school committee have decided this year to open the Evening schools on September 24, a full week earlier than in other years. Besides the usual routine studies, arrangements are being made to offer studies and practical work to both men and women to fit them for the present emergency in the country.

EDITORIAL

Other municipalities are away ahead of this city in the treatment given the men recently drafted into the National Army. Every possible honor has been shown the men who went to Ayer last week in noticeable contrast to the way in which the 7 men from Newton were treated. In a number of instances, the drafted men were taken to Ayer in automobiles, decorated with a profusion of flags, and accompanied by the officials of the city or town, and were made to feel that they were of some real value to the community and to the nation. Here in Newton, automobile owners who had tendered their machines to the Public Safety Committee found many excuses for not allowing the use of the cars to go to Ayer, and other ways and means had to be found by the Local Exemption Board. The next quota from Newton is expected to leave West Newton at 9 A. M. next Wednesday, and we would like to suggest that the occasion be made a memorable one, both for men who are to help defend our country and its principles, as well as for the good name of the city of Newton.

Mr. Bacon's plans for remodeling the City Hall and the utilization of the old church building adjoining for municipal purposes shows a careful study of the needs of the various municipal departments and provides them with ample room for at least ten years. The estimated cost of $50,000, however, puts a question on the plan before it is even born. If $50,000 is to be used for City Hall purposes, it ought to be applied to a new building which would be an ornament to the city, and not to patching up two old buildings as proposed.

The policy of the Public Works committee to require the establishment of a building line on all streets accepted in the future, should be heartily commended. This good work ought not to stop here, however, and there should be a systematic attempt to place a building line on every public street in the city. Every year delay in this respect increases the cost which the future will have to bear for imperative street widenings.

City Solicitor Bishop's opinion that the location of gasoline pumps on the street line is without authority will be both praised and condemned. Automobileists will be somewhat inconvenienced but the rest of the city will be pleased to have these eyesores removed from view.

The distillation of whiskey in the country ceased last Saturday night. Let us hope it will never be resumed.

DEATH OF MR. GEORGE

Mr. Norman H. George, a resident of this city for the past 20 years, died last Tuesday at his home on Gray Cliff road, Newton Centre, after a period of ill health beginning in the spring of 1916.

Mr. George took an active interest in the business and social life of this city, being a member of the firm of Chase & Sanborn of Boston, and a member of the Exchange Club of Boston, the Brae Burn Country Club, the Wianno Club of Wianno, Mass., the Villagers Society of Newton Centre, and an active member of the old First Church of Newton Centre. Mr. George was also a director in the Newton Trust Co. and a trustee of the Newton Centre Savings Bank.

He was born in Concord, N. H., 62 years ago, and entered the employ of Alexander Bros., wholesale grocers of Providence, R. I. in 1877. In 1882 he came to Boston and became connected with the firm of E. T. Cowdrey & Co. In 1887 he entered the employ of Chase & Sanborn and became a member of the firm in 1907.

He married Miss Ina F. Reid in 1888 and she died at Newton Centre in December, 1915. Mr. George is survived by a sister and two brothers who reside in Providence.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon in the First Church, Newton Centre, in charge of the pastor, Rev. Dr. Edward M. Noyes. The pall bearers were Messrs. John S. Alley, George S. Smith, Frederick Flood, Adams D. Claffin, Charles Copeland and Clifton H. Dwinell. The burial was in the family lot at the Newton Cemetery.

HARVEST DAY

There is considerable interest being taken in the Community Harvest Day to be held on the Waban Playground, October 12, under the auspices of the Newton Fur and Feather Club. Entries for live stock close on Sept. 20 and for fruit and vegetables on October 1.

Laundrying and Giving in Laundry.

A humorous guise of a truly serious advance, in disease prevention, falls through Bacterial Studies reported through the Chemical Congress.

Doubted Cure but Cures.

Ambrine, properly scouted, at first by American Medical Experts, guardians against fraud, now proved efficacious in a Newton Laboratory.

SUCCESSFUL SALE

Miss Elizabeth Hollis, the little daughter of Alderman and Mrs. Arthur W. Hollis, and Miss Muriel Conn, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey B. Conn, of Auburndale, are certainly doing their "bit" for the war, and deserve great credit for the successful sale they conducted last Friday afternoon for the benefit of the Red Cross.
Tables were arranged attractively on the lawn at Alderman Hollis' residence on Central street and cake, candy, lemonade and fancy articles, were on sale from three until six. There was also a "grab" for the little folks who were present in large numbers.
The little girls, who worked hard to make the fair a success, were amply rewarded for their efforts, as they netted the neat sum of twenty dollars, for this worthy object.

$10,000 WANTED

A committee composed of E. J. Frost, A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., Henry J. Nichols, Frank L. Richardson, and Leon B. Rogers, has been asked to raise, in the City of Newton, $10,000 for the 101st U. S. Field Artillery, which includes Battery B, enlisted to a great extent in Newton.

Mr. Herbert Parker, chairman of the General Committee states that: "The disbursements for the Regiment and its individual members, as need may arise, will be expended exclusively by and under the control of the Colonel commanding in consultation with his Regimental officers. It is, of course, impossible at this distance of way of anticipation, to state what may be the specific needs for which the expenditures are to be made. I had several conversations with Colonel Sherburne and his expectation was that the funds would be needed and used for supplying camp accommodations like cook shacks, tent floorings or tent equipments, efficient incinerators, fuel, additional transportation both for necessary and emergency supplies, and possibly for emergency transportation of disabled or wounded men, and in the event of emergencies, the most immediate care of the sick and wounded. Nothing is for luxury but all for practical efficiency and such reasonable comforts as were conditions may permit. Everything will be under the direction of the commanding officers and all for the benefit of the entire Regiment, distributed as need may arise to individual companies or battalions where the individual need may develop or exist. There is nothing for mere sentimentality in the service and everything will be subject to and in accordance with military requirements and a soldierly discipline and service. In addition to these primary objects the officers of the Regiment will, through the Regimental Committee, at the earliest possible time, establish as direct cable lines of communication as shall be possible to the end that, through the Committee, relatives of members of the Regiment may secure direct and authoritative information concerning individuals in the Regiment itself. It is also expected that from time to time, through the officers, such information may be acquired will be distributed to the families of the officers and men through the Regimental Committee. I may add that Colonel Sherburne and his officers rely upon the support which the Regimental Committee intends to provide, and the assurance of the committee's diligent and devoted service as matter of great happiness to the officers as they left for the perils that await them. I shall be glad to give you any further information as to the details of the needs or expenditures but until Colonel Sherburne shall have arrived upon the scene of service, it is doubtful whether more definite forecast of requirements can be made."

LETTERS FROM FRANCE

To the Editor of the Graphic:

I think that these letters from a French woman to a friend in America are worthy of publication.

The writer is one of many devoted French women who are doing their bit to help win the war. Before the war she was teaching in this country but returned to France at the outbreak of hostilities in order to devote her time and money to the care of the poilus.

The dietary which she describes is voluntary and which she has adopted from motives of patriotism.

Although the letters lose much in translation, they present a vivid picture of the devotion of the French to the cause—a devotion which would be well for us all to follow.

FRANCIS GEO. CURTIS.

My dear Miss —:

First let me ask your pardon for writing you on a half sheet but you know that paper is hard to get and one must not waste it.

I am here at Paris well and safe after a good voyage without accident, and am glad to be here.

I thank you again for the cheque which you gave me before I left, it will be very useful for one of my families of refugees.

They are people who were rich farmers before the war, and now have absolutely nothing. The family consists of the father, who has been at the front since the war began; of the wife, the grandmother and two children; there was a third but she succumbed to the hardships which they suffered.

Truly I would like to aid them more freely but as the war continues, money is more and more scarce and, unfortunately, many persons prefer to turn their money to certain institutions, in which it is practically lost and fails to accomplish its object properly.

The family in question lives in a miserable house (the term is too good for it), all four of them in a little room with a wooden floor, with but two beds, and scarcely room to turn round; then there is a so-called kitchen—the whole thing on the damp ground and the boards are already rotting.

I have much reason for despondency, for the war is hard and long, and all are weak from the privations due to the hard winter. I wish I could do more for these unfortunate but I cannot. I ought to give all that I can to my poilus, prisoners and other refugees. You will not think me impertinent, if I ask you to speak of my work to your many friends, perhaps they can give something according to their means to relieve this terrible misery.

If you should be able to send me any money please send it by a cheque on the American Express Co., Paris.

Asking your pardon for my appeal for help, I beg you to believe me, Your sincere Paris, June 8, 1917.

My dear Miss —:

It was the deepest emotion that I received your cheque for which I thank you from the bottom of my

—The work of making surgical dressings goes on every day at the Work Room of the Newton Branch of the Red Cross in the Masonic Building. Women all over the country are busy in similar work but so far the demand for the dressings is far ahead of the supply.

—Mrs. Starkweather, who is in charge at the room, reports that this week three thousand dressings were sent in. Women who are willing to help in the work will be welcome any day, except Saturdays and Sundays when the room is closed, between ten in the morning and one in the afternoon. Children, too, will find work they can do.

—At the headquarters of the Newton Branch of the Red Cross in the Newton Club contributions to the Wool Fund have dribbled in this week. Those which have been received are gratefully acknowledged but the Red Cross is in immediate need of a large amount for this fund. The Red Cross works for all the men in our army and navy, because all of them are fighting, or are to fight, for all of us, and unless contributions come in more freely some of the men may have to go cold because of the lack of money with which to buy wool. Checks may be sent to Mr. George Royal Pulsifer, Treasurer of the Newton Branch of the Red Cross, Newton Club.

—A poster which the Newton Branch of the Red Cross had placed at the head of the incline to the Newtonville station inviting Newtonville women to help in Red Cross work in the Work Room in the Masonic Building was stolen this week by some one who took not only the poster but also the glass which protected the poster from the weather but unfortunately not from thieves. The first thief left the frame in which the poster was hung but later either he or another took also the frame. If the conscience of the one who took the poster is one that works and troubles the Red Cross will consider that the poster was bought if the taker of it will send in a contribution to the Wool Fund which is in need of all the contributions it can get. The contribution may be sent in anonymously if the one who ought to send it in wishes so to make it.

BOYS WILL WIN THIS WAR

In a forceful article on the relationship of boys to the war lately written by Dr. Thomas Chalmers, director of the Allen School for Boys in West Newton, opinions are expressed which bear close relation to the ideas declared today by the State education commissioner.

"This war will be won by the boys of America who are now in their early teens," says Dr. Chalmers in the course of his article. "I do not mean that the war will last until these boys will have reached enlistment age. The war will end before that. But America's entrance into the war may have the effect of prolonging rather than shortening it. It has made the struggle a more decisive one. It is now a definite fight to the finish between autocracy and democracy."

"Germany is not yet convinced that she must in the end submit. She has not taken seriously America's declaration of war, and she knows we have now but few trained soldiers to send to Europe. Our supplies of men are enormous, to be sure, but we have never had the military state of mind. To prepare these enormous resources in state of mind and physical equipment for the business in hand is our immediate task."

"This preparation should begin with our boys in their early teens: five or six years of quiet, patient study of the great lessons of history, of the function of the heroic in human evolution, of the joy of sacrifice, living and dying for others, hard work, and drudgery, for the mastery of the detail, and technique of military knowledge and good sense, would furnish America with a dozen armies of a million men each, who would know how to make good war here or anywhere for human rights and liberty."

"It is but this determination on our part to prepare for a war that may last ten years that will defeat our formidable enemy. Germany's knowledge of that determination will further hasten her desire for peace. Whether the war ends five years from now or five months from now, it will be decided by what America now plans to do with her boys in their early teens. It will be they who will decide the Prussian alternative—world domination or downfall. They are deciding it now in the military training of their schools and camps."

THE BATTLE HYMN OF PROHIBITION

Massachusetts

Oh! God gives Fair America to heed the bitter cry,
Of sin, and want, and suffering, His help is ever nigh,
She's calling forth her loyal ones of every name and tie,
For God is leading on.

Glory! Glory! Hallelujah! Glory!
Glory! Hallelujah!
Glory! Glory! Hallelujah! Our God is leading on.

Oh! Good Old Massachusetts hears the call from out the blue,
She is pressing to the service all her clans so tried and true,
There will be no surrender in the fight against the brew,
For God is leading on.

There are thousands upon thousands, from the Berkshires to the Bay, Boston, Provincetown, to Pittsfield who have seen the only way,
By Prohibition for the world to bring the better day,
For God is leading on.

Each city, town and hamlet has her forces for the right,
They are standing all together 'gainst the harpies of the night,
The victory is certain 'twill be won by Heaven's might,
For God is leading on.

In this service for our Leader, there is work for every one,
From old age to tender childhood all will share the vict'ry won,
And conqu'ring every evil, keep our places in the sun,
For God is leading on.

Refrain.
From Porto Rico, Panama, Alaska and from Maine,
To Hawaii and the Philippines, each million, more shall gain,
Till the Golden Rule of Heaven comes in Prohibition's reign,
For God is leading on.

Refrain.
The world hails Fair America, the eagle and the dove,
Around the world God's colors, blue and white, are seen above,
With honor, faith and justice bring His peace enthroned with love,
For God is leading on.

Refrain.
Refrain.

licenses were granted the Bay State Development Co. for gasoline on Old Colony road, Chestnut Hill, and for private garage on Rowe street for G. E. Keyes. License to withdraw was granted on petition of Capitol Oil Co. for gasoline permits on Charlesbank road and on Commonwealth avenue, and to Giuseppe Alessandrini for Common Victualer license at Thompsonville. The Edison Co. was granted a conduit location in Walnut park, attachments on Walnut street and Somerset road, and poles on Crafts street, while the Telephone Co. was granted a conduit in Franklin street and poles on Somerset road.

The majority report of the License committee favoring a gasoline permit for J. V. Monaghan Sons on Auburn street, West Newton, brought out considerable debate, and the opinion of City Solicitor Bishop that the city had no legal right to grant gasoline pump-licenses in the public highway and that the present gasoline pumps so located were illegal. Two members of the committee opposed granting this permit on the ground that the location was at a dangerous corner and that a nuisance would be created by the blowing of horns to summon the garage attendant, 120 feet away. Aldermen Clark and Goodwin opposed the permit on these grounds and Alderman Blake because there were 8 gasoline places within 3000 feet of this location. Alderman Whidden defended the majority report saying that the petitioner had an excellent reputation and had been in business for 30 years at this place. He maintained that Auburn street was not a main thoroughfare for automobiles and that there were no extra hazard or extra danger at this point and that the safety of the public and automobile owners could well be left to the petitioner. The permit was granted after many questions had been asked the City Solicitor by a vote of 11 to 7.

The report on in expedient by the Finance committee on the item of $1800 for resurfacing Commonwealth avenue at West Bridge was opposed by Alderman Hollis who wanted to know if the claim for damage for a defective highway at this point was due to the lack of resurfacing. In the absence of the Street Commissioner the report of the committee which also was in expedient on a matter of $100 for electric lighting at No. 2 Engine House was tabled.

William H. Bagley was granted $8 a month Soldiers relief, and various small appropriations authorized, as recommended by the Mayor.

An order for $550 for improvements at City Home, for assessments on account of work on Avalon road, for sewer in Montvale road, for hearings on sewer taking in Westland avenue, for drain easement from Brewster road, and for laying out and for establishing a building line on Ricker road, Hobart road ext., Prentice road, Franklin street ext., and Farlow road ext. were also adopted. There was some debate on the matter of establishing a building line, Alderman Harrison stating that it was the policy of the Public Works committee in recommending the acceptance of streets in the future to also establish a building line on such streets.

Alderman Angier was appointed on the Claims committee in place of Alderman Harrison who had resigned and the board at 9.50 adjourned to Sept. 24th.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—A clean wholesome comedy, of typical American atmosphere, and a quiet, kindly, philosophical comedy, without noise, without boisterousness, that is "Old Lady 31," in which Emma Dunn, supported by an excellent cast, is presenting at the Plymouth Theatre. "Old Lady 31" is going to make a great deal of history in our American theatre, and you will, putting it mildly, have to see it some day so you might as well see it now if you can. There will be many seasons when you can see it, but frankly and honestly, it's a play you should not put off seeing because if you do you are losing something out of your lives. We only have one life apiece. Rachel Crothers has dramatized a great human document in her staging of "Old Lady 31." "Human document" is a trite phrase, too, but so is the life Miss Crothers draws trite. It is the life we all know, and the life that demands the artist to draw. The theme of the play is that of growing old. "No one can help growing old. Carrying the argument to its extreme, no one can help living, but the only artist is the one who can paint life. A dramatist has the greatest opportunity to paint life, the more chances, and therefore fails the oftenest—the chances are against him. He has more chances to go wrong, and avails himself of them, unwittingly.

COPLEY THEATRE—The Henry Jewett Players are to be seen for two weeks more in the play of plays, "The Man Who Stayed at Home," at the Copley Theatre. For fourteen weeks this exciting war drama has been playing to capacity audiences and the interest shown by the patrons has not abated a particle from that displayed the opening week. The scene is laid at a watering place in England at the opening of the present great struggle and depicts conditions of insecurity and unrest prevalent in England during the early days of the war. The action of this thrilling melodrama is formed around the endeavors of Christopher Brent, "the man who stayed at home," to discover and arrest a band of German spies who are disclosing the movements of the English forces.

CANDIDATE FOR REPRESENTATIVE

MR. LEELAND POWERS

his fit for college at the University School in Washington, D. C., and at the Middlesex School at Concord, Mass. He entered Dartmouth in 1906, graduating with Phi Beta Kappa rank in 1910, with honors in three departments, and received a fellowship in economics, under which he studied, and received his degree of A. M. in 1911. He received a degree of LL.B. from the Harvard Law School in 1914, and was admitted to the practice of law the same year, since which time he has been connected with the firm of Powers & Hall, to which he was admitted as junior member in January, 1916. He lives at 66 Beaumont avenue, Newtonville, and has a wife and one child. He is very popular with the young men of the city, and is regarded as a young man of sterling character and integrity, of fine ability as a speaker and debater, and thoroughly interested in the public questions of the day. His friends believe that he would make a most excellent record in the Legislature, and would prove a worthy successor to the very distinguished men who have represented Newton in the past in the General Court.

either the city whom we have sworn to serve, or the Public Safety Committee should furnish real guns so that we may learn how to handle them, shoot them to hit something and learn the Manual of Arms with some degree of proficiency.

I am told that the Public Safety Committee has quite a fund that has been donated by citizens of Newton for the purpose of insuring safety to the law abiding citizens of Newton. Be that as may be, I do not at this time intend to outline a plan of action, I will leave that for those in authority. I will add in closing that, at least, somebody might furnish equipment sufficient for one company, have it kept at the Armory so that the different companies could have the use of them at such time as could be agreed upon by the Company Commanders, each taking its turn, and thereby learn how to handle and use them if necessary.

SHUBERT THEATRE—After an absence of three years from Boston, Robert Mantell, the last of the great classic tragedians on the English-speaking stage, comes to the Shubert Theatre next Monday night, September 17, for a two weeks engagement in the big roles that have made his name illustrious. The death of Sir Herbert Tree in England last summer left Mr. Mantell alone of Anglo-Saxon artists to bear the torch lighted for Richard Burbage in Queen Elizabeth's time by Shakespeare himself, and borne through the generations by Betterton, Garrick, Kemble, Kean, Booth and Irving. The order of the plays for the engagement at the Shubert follows: First Week—Monday night, "King Lear"; Tuesday night, "Hamlet"; Wednesday matinee, "The Merchant of Venice"; Wednesday night, "Richelieu"; Thursday night, "Othello"; Friday night, "King Lear"; Saturday matinee, "Hamlet"; Saturday night, "Richard III."

"EVERYWOMAN"

"Everywoman" the stupendous spectacle, which has proven to be a real dramatic and musical sensation, has drawn thousands of amusement-lovers to the Boston Opera House during the past week. The cast of "Everywoman" is peculiarly fitting and one which is admirably adapted to bring out the beauties of the text of the Walter Brown play. It is a ripe instance of the skill of the producer in the selecting of types to represent the various virtues and vices which influence "Everywoman" on her pilgrimage in search of love. From the first entrance of every character there is no doubt or speculation as to its intent. The symbolism of the drama is never puzzling. Everything is painted in the most appropriate colors and there is no preaching. The lesson which is promulgated by "Everywoman" is one which he who runs may read. To miss seeing it will be a real calamity to any thinking mind.

the society remained until April, 1868, when they secured from Mr. Thomas Rice the use of the so-called "Village Hall" over the store of Dimond and Weatherbee. In April, 1869, the society was permanently organized, the Board of Trustees incorporated, and the letters of dismissal from home churches formally received. A regular minister, Rev. Emory A. Howard, was appointed by the New England Conference. Soon afterwards, the whole building was purchased from Mr. Rice and the rental of the stores below the hall and of the barn attached helped materially in meeting expenses. Here the society worshipped until in 1889, under the ministrations and leadership of Rev. A. P. Sharp it was decided to build a church. The plan was put into execution, the present edifice erected, and the "Village Hall" property sold. Under Rev. O. R. Miller, in 1897, the society carried through a vigorous campaign, and paid off the existing mortgage. The occasion was celebrated and the document publicly burned. Since that time the church has been free from debt. From time to time it has received much welcome bequests and has made needed improvements. The beautiful organ was installed under the energetic leadership of Rev. G. W. Jones, now at Newton Highlands.

Though not a large society, it has always been most united and persistent in its work. It has been the church home of christians of various denominational complexions, though always Methodist Episcopal in sentiment and administration; and its interests have been faithfully cared for by most loyal and earnest members of the New England Conference.

SOLDIERS' LIBRARIES

During the week beginning September 10, the country at large is to raise money for libraries for soldiers and sailors wherever they may be, whether on the firing line, or in the camp training for trench, aerial or submarine warfare, or in the hospital convalescing after having done their bit at the front.

Massachusetts has played a great part in all forms of war relief. More men have enlisted in Massachusetts in proportion to its population than in any other state. Massachusetts must also lead in this undertaking. To accomplish this each city, town, and village must do its share. The name of the City of Newton must be among the leaders, as in the past. When one considers the number of things for which funds have been collected one hesitates to bring forward another; but when one considers the reasons for all of these contributions, that the money raised is for the benefit of our own boys wherever they may be, then we put our pen to our checkbook or our hand to our pocketbook and give gladly.

While in camp our men are granted only short leaves of absence, they spend the bulk of their time right there. During the greater part of the day they are busy with their routine work. Evenings are more or less free. Therefore, during the long evenings of the approaching winter all places of recreation will be crowded with young men. In the library will be found those men who seek a healthy diversion for the mind, as well as those who are desirous for continuing some technical line of work.

Mr. Walter B. Briggs, assistant librarian of Harvard College Library, has now sailed for France, "somewhere in France," to assume charge of the libraries abroad. Ahead of him there were shipped 50 cases of books as a nucleus with which to work.

There has been a great cry for reading matter to fill the leisure hours. Give generously that our men may fight well!

Snow
Where paint is scanty, the winter gales drive snow into the wood's tiny cracks and crevices. There, in claspboards and under eaves, it melts, swells the boards until the paint is pushed off, and spreads decay which only carpentry can remedy.

How do your buildings fare in winter? They will stay sound and sturdy, not only in winter but in all seasons, if protected with Dutch Boy White-Lead, thinned with pure linseed oil, a paint that combines long-lasting protection and good looks.

TOBACCO FOR SOLDIERS

Graphic Starts Campaign for Tobacco for Boys in France

Some of America's soldiers and sailors already are in France, training for war. As soon as they are in trim they'll go into the trenches, in the slippery mud and the sweltering heat, to fight for democracy. Many of them will die there, many will be carried back wounded. All of them will undergo hardships beyond imagination. The Red Cross is taking care of the wounded, kind hands furnish our men with socks and shirts. The United States Government clothes and feeds them.

But there has been no means for furnishing them with tobacco. Unless their friends at home help them, the soldiers must sit in the trenches with empty pipes, longing for a puff or two that would bring untold comforts.

The Newton Graphic has taken up the work to help provide tobacco for AMERICA'S fighting men. We are going to do our bit to fill up the tobacco boxes. We are ready to receive contributions for "Our Boys in France Tobacco Fund" for which we have been appointed official collector in this city.

We want dollars, tens and hundreds of dollars for this work. "Our Boys in France Tobacco Fund" is a patriotic organization. All supplies and labor are contributed so that every cent you give goes for tobacco, which is bought practically at cost. Every dollar pays for a bundle of tobacco that would cost $1.80 if bought from a retail dealer.

The tobacco you buy for the soldiers and sailors will be divided into packages costing the fund twenty-five cents each; with a retail value of forty-five cents—enough tobacco to supply a soldier for a week. In each package that you pay for is inserted a postcard, addressed to you.

In accepting the tobacco, the fighting man agrees to write on the card a message of thanks, which he will mail to you. If he keeps his promise you get your receipt from an American soldier in France.

The Americans in France need tobacco. They can buy French brands if they have the money and are in cities, but at the front tobacco is a scarce article, even the French kind.

The Secretary of War and Secretary of Navy have endorsed this plan. Army officers greet it enthusiastically and the soldiers are wild about it. There's nothing like a good old pipe to make a soldier forget his troubles. Imagine a bunch of fellows you know, sitting in a trench at night, waiting, whispering wondering what is going to happen next, longing for a smoke to soothe them. And all they can do—unless you help—is to sit there disconsolately and finger their empty pipes or draw in vain on a briar that had served them so well in days gone by.

Send in your money. Fill up these pipes. The American soldiers in France are asking for a smoke. Will you pass them by?

Altho the campaign has hardly started contributions have already been received from the following: William J. Doherty, J. Clifton Whitney, George M. Angier, Banerott L. Goodwin, E. B. Bishop, Hubert L. Carter.

SURPRISE PARTY

While on his way to drill, Monday night, Theodore Morton was "held up" at the corner of Elliot and Galen streets, by a group of his friends.

He was conducted to the home of B. G. Secord where Mrs. Morton had been invited to spend the evening. Both were blindfolded and led to the Y. M. C. A. where bowling was in order.

Later the party adjourned to the home of William H. Cady, which was decorated for the occasion with the National Colors. Chaffing dishes and percolators were the attraction for sometime, after which Mr. Morton was presented with a khaki colored army sweater, and Mrs. Morton with a decorated market basket of useful household articles.

At an "early hour" the guests departed wishing "good luck" and a "safe return" to Mr. Morton who enters training camp this week. Those present besides the honor guests were

LONG IN SERVICE

Asst. Fire Chief George S. Holmes Dies After Long Illness

Assistant Chief of Fire Dept. George S. Holmes died last Sunday at his home in West Newton as the result of a paralytic stroke received in April 1915. He partially recovered from this illness and has been able to perform some clerical duty at headquarters until two weeks ago. Captain Holmes was born in Newton, August 1, 1853, and has always lived here. He was a carpenter by trade and at one time was in business for himself.

His service in the Newton Fire Department began, when a boy, with the Nonantum hand engine Company in 1872 and he was one of the firemen who saw service in the great Boston fire of that year. He was intermittently a member of the Fire department between 1875 and 1880, serving for a year at a time, with periods when he was not connected with the service. On January 1, 1895, he re-entered the Department as a call member of Engine 1 becoming a permanent member of Engine 2 on May 15, 1895, serving as driver of the old Chemical engine for some years. He was appointed assistant chief July 10, 1902.

Mr. Holmes was a member of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons, Newton Royal Arch Chapter, Gethsemane Commandery, K. T. Waban Lodge of Odd Fellows, the State Fireman's Association and a former member of the Newton Veteran Fireman's Association.

His wife died four years ago. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at his home, 1492 Washington street, West Newton, and members of the department paid a tribute to their former leader. The services were conducted by Rev. J. Edgar Park of the Second Church at West Newton. All but two of the men from the department headquarters at West Newton, where Chief Holmes was stationed, attended and from all the engine houses in the city floral tributes were sent. The burial was in Newton Cemetery.

These firemen served as bearers: Capt. Edward Waterhouse of Hose 4, Newtonville; Capt. Michael Turner of Truck 2, Newton Highlands; Capt. Benjamin Tripp of Engine 1, Newton; Lieut. Clarence Ranlett, aid to the chief of the department; Lieut. Edward Burke of Engine 2, West Newton; Lieut. Oscar Colby of the same company.

The men then marched to City Hall where Mayor Childs greeted them from the front steps.

Mayor Childs made an eloquent and impressive address to the men, saying in part:

This is a day of pride and of regret and the city bids you a hearty farewell, and is proud of the manner in which you have responded to the call of duty. Your names will be forever kept on her roll of honor. The spirit of complete patriotism, shown by the youthful Charles Ward at the beginning of the Civil War, has not weakened with the passing years, and you have manifested the same spirit that animated the Boys of '61.

This is a typical American gathering, you come from different homes, different creeds and walks of life to stand shoulder to shoulder as guardians of our country. The hardest battles are not at the front, but will be fought in the tent and camp for character, and the veterans of the Grand Army will tell you how hard it is to keep straight in times of war.

Remember first that you are men, then that you are Americans and next that you are soldiers. You will be followed with the gratitude, the best wishes, the sympathy and the prayers of 40,000 people who will pray for a splendid service and a safe return. The Mayor then presented Edward P. O'Neill, Edward Moan, and Thomas M. Cummings, members of the Police department with wrist watches, the gift of their fellow officers.

General James G. White spoke for the Newton Public Safety Committee pledging the assistance of the committee to the families of the men, if necessary, and assuring them that the committee would do all in its power to make them comfortable. He

A soldier wrote from the trenches "We sit in our dug-outs and 'just think.' I wonder if you could send some books and magazines over here?" "The lads were never so pleased as they had some books for them", is the way one corporal puts it.

One wounded soldier writes: "I do not know how we should live without your books; I am just waiting until my pal has finished, to get hold of his book."

What incentive is needed after reading a few such testimonials from the men at the front?!! Do you wonder that the American Library Association wishes to extend its work to the camps and the trenches? The government will furnish the supplies and equipment to make fighters. The American Library Association will furnish the material to help keep the minds of our soldiers in fighting trim.

The field to be covered by the libraries embraces the widest range, including service for recruits, for men in training, for men being mobilized, for men in garrisons, for men in their rest periods while on the march, and for men at the front. The libraries will serve the crippled and maimed men returned from service, interned groups and prisoners of war, and sailors, both on shipboard and at the various naval stations.

For this work it is estimated that will be needed a fund of $1,000,000, which must be raised by popular subscription, every man and every woman in every community doing his or her part. As every section of the country will furnish troops, every section will assist in providing reading matter for the troops. The men who stay at home should help to make camp life more wholesome and more attractive.

Not a man in any branch of Uncle Sam's service must be neglected! Newton men have always enjoyed the leges of a good public library and residents of the city should see to it that this is not among the shortcomings of our soldiers' camp life. Give and give generously to the Newton Free Library. "If you give to the world the best that you have, the best will come back to you."

GIRL SCOUT TRAINING CLASS

Under the direction of the Newton Local Council of Girl Scouts a training class for Girl Scout Leaders is to begin on October 15th. The course will cover the subjects necessary for the three scout tests and the instruction will be given by competent persons. First Lieutenant John V. Spalding, Harvard R. O. C. has volunteered his services as drill master.

A deposit of $2 will be required for all entering this class but will be refunded if the student completes the course, if not the money is forfeited. The Local Council is glad to furnish this instruction hoping as a result to have more intelligent persons in Girl Scout work. The class is open to any one who is a resident of Newton. And it is earnestly hoped that those sections of the city that has not troops already formed will make an effort to send representatives into this class.

Further information may be had by communicating with Miss Susan W. Hills, Commissioner, 1495 Centre Street, Newton Highlands. Telephone Newton South 374-W.

CLAFIN VETERANS CORPS

The Clafin Guard Veteran Corps Military Co. composed of past members of Co. C, 5th Regiment have resumed their weekly drills. The work last Monday evening consisted of Manual of Arms and Bayonet Drill under command of Sergts. Kerr and Cronin, former members of Co. C and was both interesting and instructive.

All those interested in this movement are cordially invited to be present at the next regular drill of the Company in Hibernian Hall, Newton, Monday evening, Sept. 24, at 8 o'clock. Election of officers will be held after the drill. Address all communications to John D. Earle, 11 Carter street, Newtonville.

COPLEY THEATRE—The Henry Jewett Players still continue in "The Man Who Stayed at Home" at the Copley, and on Monday next commence their sixteenth week of this thrilling drama of the present struggle in Europe. The play is a clever combination of comedy and melo-drama which holds one's attention until the end.

Well it may be said that this play surpasses all the war plays since the days of "Secret Service" and it will undoubtedly prove as great a favorite. Of particular interest to all Americans, since our entrance into arena of war, the play presents many striking problems for our solution, and depicts clearly the false sense of security prevalent in England at the outbreak of the war and the tendency exhibited by many to "let the other fellow do it."

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this nineteenth day of September in the year nineteen hundred and seventeen.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Activities in all departments will be in full swing by October first. The bowling alleys will open Sept. 24th. Prizes will be given to the member rolling the best strings on the opening night. All gymnasium classes will open the week beginning October first. It behooves us all, whether of military age or not, to keep in the best physical condition possible. Regular exercise will keep you fit and in good health. There are classes for men and boys from 10 years of age up.

Those interested in studying French or Spanish are asked to inquire at the Association for particulars.

An Honor Roll of Newton Y. M. C. A. members who have joined the colors is being prepared. After this list is posted we will appreciate the names of any members who have been omitted.

Three directors of the Association and many members are in service. We are proud of them.

Newton citizens responded well to the appeal of the committee for funds for Y. M. C. A. work for our own boys while in training in this country.

Numbers to France that more money is needed at once to minister to our boys who are serving overseas. Make check payable to J. W. Blaisdell and send to Newton Y. M. C. A.

But did you know that through secretaries of neutral nations Y. M. C. A. work is being done in prison camps in Germany and Austria? If any of our boys are captured and sent to the prison camps they will find Y. M. C. A. secretaries, supported by American money, ready to serve them. This is a great work, reaching to all parts of the world. Give us your support generously and quickly.

Y. M. C. A. Boys' Division Notes.

With the opening of school the Boys' Division at the Y. M. C. A. has begun to show increased activity. The rooms are being put into first class condition for the winter's use. Mr. Sears the Boys' Secretary returned from his vacation soon after Labor day. To fill the position of Assistant Boys' Secretary made vacant by the army enlistment of Mr. George Grace the Y. M. C. A. has engaged Mr. Gregor Crook of Rockland, Mass. Mr. Crook is 19 years old and is a 1917 graduate of the Rockland High School. While a student he was prominent in athletics being a member of the varsity basketball team for two years. At the State Boys' Conference at Lowell last year he was elected second vice-president of the conference. During the summer he has been a leader at Camp Beckett where he made the acquaintance of a number of Newton boys.

Mr. Doubleday the Boys' Physical Director has returned from his summer's leave of absence. The regular gym classes under his direction will start about October 1st.

EDITORIAL

The contest at the primary next Tuesday for the Republican nomination for representatives in this city promises to eclipse the lukewarm fight over the governorship. There can be no doubt of the renomination of J. Weston Allen and Thomas Weston Jr., who are candidates for a fourth term, for their record and fitness for the office are so manifest that no one will question their claim for renomination. For the third place on the party ticket Representative Henry W. Jarvis, who was elected last November, as an Independent Democrat and an Independent Republican, after being defeated for the party nomination in September, is being opposed by Mr. Leland Powers, one of the young men of the city. It seems to us that self-respecting Republicans who have some regard for the party nomination should use all their efforts to defeat Mr. Jarvis who flouted the party verdict last fall and by active work in the Democratic precincts, and the absence of regular Democratic candidates for the office, won the election over the regular Republican candidate by a small margin. In addition to his party disloyalty, Mr. Jarvis, in two years service in the House, has not been identified with any constructive legislation and has had but little if any influence on the work of the House.

We urge the Republicans to vote for Messrs. Allen, Powers and Weston for Representatives next Tuesday.

The currents of political affairs the present fall are so complex and confusing that the average Republican, who tries to look into the future, is apt to be uncertain as to the best course to pursue at the primary next Tuesday, when a candidate for governor is to be selected.

It seems clear, however, after careful consideration that Governor McCall is fully entitled to the usual action of the Republican party and should be given the opportunity for a third election to that office. To this well established custom, it might be added that it would seem inadvisable, with the country in a state of war and with unknown emergencies to meet in the immediate future, to change the chief executive of the Commonwealth.

We therefore advise the Republicans of this city to vote for Governor McCall next Tuesday.

Representatives Allen and Weston fully deserve the votes of the Republicans of this city at the primary next Tuesday. Mr. Allen has been one of the leaders of the House for the past two years and has made an enviable record for constructive legislation and is a man of power and influence at the State House. Mr. Weston has been a valuable member of the important committee on Metropolitan Affairs and has ably forwarded the interests of the city of Newton on many important matters. Both of these gentlemen will be in position next year if re-elected to be of great value to the city and Commonwealth.

Attention is invited to the campaign we are running for the purpose of Tobacco for the Boys in France. We should be glad to receive contributions in units of 25 cents, every cent of which will be used for pleasure of the boys who are on the firing line in France. Send in your bit promptly.

Humor in History.

When Laus, as chaplain to the king, reported on the religious condition of the people in Scotland, he was not aware how humorous he was. He wrote: "There is not a surplice in the country. I question if there be a tailor in the country that could cut you a decent surplice; the tradition of religion seems lost."

Fore-River, the huge plant of the present that began as John Adams' dream, now one of the Nation's most powerful agencies in winning victory for us and safety for the world.

SMOKES FOR THE SOLDIERS

By GELETT BURGESS of the Vigilantes

(Written for "Our Boys in France Tobacco Fund")
Whenever you're throwing your butt away,
Whenever you're lighting a new one,
Just think of the fellows that sailed away
And how you would like it, if you were they,
And some one at home sent YOU one!
You finish the package, the devil you care!
There are shops—and you've got the money.
It's a damned sight different "Over There."
It's a damned long journey to God Knows Where,
Yet THEY fight, and YOU don't. That's funny.

For War is a mixture of various Hells
From vermin and rats to stench;
But it isn't damnable German shells,
Nor the mud or the blood or the gas that tells
The mood on the men in the trenches—

It's the ice-cold nights without ever a smoke—
It's the fire-hot days that are meaner;
And a hospital ward ain't so much of a joke
And there's only one thing that can always provoke
A smile—that's Miss Nicotina!

Did you ever refuse him a cigarette
When your pal hadn't any? I doubt it!
TODAY YOU HAVE THOUSANDS OF PALMS! And Yet
Tobacco is scarce at the Front. I'll bet
You'll see they're not going without it!

Send in your bit to pay for smokes for American soldiers. England and France is sending tobacco to their men. We must supply our fighters. "Our Boys in France Tobacco Fund," has been organized to furnish this tobacco to Americans. Every dollar you contribute buys tobacco with a retail value of at least $1.30, divided into four packages. In each package is a post-card addressed to the donor. On this card the soldier who receives your gift will send you a message of thanks from the trenches.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

The many Technical High boys who have been engaged during the summer in farm labor are returning to work, brown, well, and happy. The school is proud of them all. Not only have they served materially to increase the food production of the country, but they have "made good" in every instance with the farmers. Their record for earnestness of purpose and faithful effort to give their best to their employers is an enviable one, and promises well for the business careers for which the school is training them.

The camp at Walpole, N. H., reported by the state authorities as in every way one of the most successful of those organized by the Public Safety Committee, has been in charge of Mr. Horace Kidger, head of the History Department in the Technical High. The "Major" won the respect and love of every boy in "Camp Newton." Teachers and pupils of the school and everyone who visited his well-ordered camp, took off their hats to him for his splendid work with the twenty-six Newton boys under his charge. He was ably assisted by a 1912 graduate of Tech. High, Francis T. Spaulding, son of our former superintendent of schools, Jack Lewis, Edgar Livingstone, Kenneth Keyes, and James McNeil are the Tech. boys who return from twelve long weeks of farm work in the Connecticut valley.

From the Weston camp across the Charles come Wm. Kiley, Michael and Dennis Sullivan, Elmer Priest, and Edward McAlister. Besides these boys from our two Newton camps others that have returned to school, who worked all summer as enlisted "farm laborers" are George Wiswall, William Adams, Elmer Francis, Leo Hughes, Rudolph Eiler, Thomas Newton, and Edward Ryall. There have been, however, at least forty more Technical High boys engaged in food-production, since the last of June, in gardens of their own, or on market-gardens near by.

The enrollment to date in the Technical High School is 740, a number considerably larger than last year's registration at this time. The freshman class is the largest in the history of the school.

Mr. Stanley of the science department, will be missed this year from the laboratory and class rooms by the Business course boys who take industrial chemistry. He is an officer in the 101st Regt. of Engineers and will probably be among the first of the Mass. troops ordered to France. Mr. Peake, of the history department, has resigned to engage in U. S. C. A. work at the military training camps.

The Tech. High School paper, the "Dynamo," started its seventh year, organized and rectified with energy. From a bi-monthly magazine of twenty-four pages it is to become a weekly newspaper of four pages, devoted to the affairs of the pupils and graduates of the school. The greater part of the work of issuing the new "Dynamo" will be done by the staff of twenty seniors who will be given a course in journalism, as a part of their regular school study, to prepare them for editing what is undoubtedly the first experiment in New England in putting out a high school weekly newspaper.

SAVE THE COAL

To the Citizens of New England: Coal is essential to the successful prosecution of the war. Every available pound can be put to use. It is the patriotic duty of every citizen to AVOID WASTE OF COAL and to consider how his coal requirements can be reduced.

New England in particular is confronted by a most critical situation. Two thirds of New England's coal supply normally comes by water. Many vessels engaged in carrying coal to New England ports have, already been taken over by the Government, and more will have to be surrendered for Government service as the war goes on. Our railroads are now burdened to the limit of their capacity and cannot take care of the extra load thus thrown upon them. With these limitations upon our transportation facilities comes the greatest demand for coal ever known in New England. Under these circumstances every New England coal user must help.

Householders

A. Not to use coal for heating before the first of November, or after the first of May, unless the outside temperature is below 60 degrees.

B. To burn wood wherever possible.

C. To use small oil heaters when it is necessary to keep certain parts of the house at a special temperature.

D. To reduce the coal used in the stoves. Do your cooking at one part of the day. Use wood whenever you can.

E. To be economical with gas; and with electricity where it is generated by coal-using plants. Turn off house lights when not needed, if only for a few moments.

The times call for more than usual skill and care in putting coal into stoves and furnaces. Feed sparingly. Instructions are being prepared which will help you get the most heat out of your coal.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of West Newton held its annual meeting Monday evening and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Nellie B. Rand; 1st Vice President, Mrs. Millie M. Beardsley; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. Hannah G. Blair; 3rd Vice President, Mrs. Clara Ellice; Secretary, Mrs. May F. Swett; Treasurer, Mrs. Grace L. Earley. For Superintendent of the Work for Soldiers and Sailors, Mrs. Margaret Olen; Frances Willard Settlement, Mrs. Mabel A. Lee; Flower Mission, Mrs. Alice Cushman; Young Men's Branch, Councillor Dr. N. Louise Rand; Wearing the White Ribbon, Mrs. Susan Fogwell; Sunday School, Mrs. Fred L. Smith; Purity in Literature and Art, Mrs. Clara Ellice; Press, Literature and Scientific Temperance Instruction including Anti-Narcotics, Mrs. Nellie B. Rand; Auditor, Mrs. Margaret Fogwell.

The work accomplished the past year was very encouraging. Plans were made for a Hallows'en celebration at A. O. U. W. Hall, October 31 to increase the treasury, so that even more may be accomplished the present year in continuing to assist in the Welfare work to be carried on at the U. W. as well as in the other departments.

A Hallows'en supper and other features in addition to a sale of fancy and useful articles and a silver medal oratorical contest will fill the time between 6 and 10 to which all are invited.

LARGE REGISTRATION

With what promises to be by far the largest registration in its history, the Evening School conducted by the Young Men's Catholic Association will resume its sessions on Monday evening, October 8th, in Boston College High School, South End.

It is expected that at least 2,500 men and women will avail themselves of the opportunities offered to increase their knowledge. The school is the largest and most successful of its kind in America. It was started on a scale covering but a part of the more important studies, but has since branched out so that its schedule includes one of the widest ranges of classes that such an institution could undertake and others will be added as occasion requires.

A catalog giving a description of all the courses will be mailed to anyone on request by the Secretary of the Association. Special catalogs on Civil Service, Accounting and Advertising have been prepared and will give full details of these particular courses.

The work of the Association this year will be in charge of President James J. Mahar, and Secretary Joseph H. Farren, which insure a continuance of the same wise policy which has made the evening classes so successful.

SCHASCHKE-HOWLETT

A pretty Autumn wedding was solemnized last week on Saturday evening at the residence of Mrs. George Parker Howlett in West Newton, when her daughter, Miss Adeline Martha Howlett, was united in marriage to Mr. Frederick Gilchrist Schaschke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Schaschke of Page road, Newtonville.

The bride's home on Prince street was decorated artistically in a wedding scheme of pink, with pink astors and cosmos. The ceremony was performed at half after seven, by Rev. John Matteson of Whitman, formerly rector of the Church of the Messiah.

As the bridal party assembled, the wedding march was played by Handley's Orchestra. The bride was led down the stairway to the improvised altar, by her uncle, Justice William Rutter of Albany, New York, and was given in marriage by her mother.

She wore a beautiful wedding gown of white satin with pearl trimmings and court train, and her bridal veil of tulle was fastened with a spray of orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a bar pin of amethysts and pearls, the gift of the bride-groom.

The matrons of honor, Mrs. Edward B. Rowe, sister of the bride, of Wellesley Hills, and Mrs. Irving Clark of Lower Falls, wore handsome gowns of pale blue tulle with silver embroidery, and carried arm bouquets of pink roses.

The bridesmaids, Miss Marion Burrage and Miss Helen Potter of West Newton, were attractively gowned in light blue net over silver cloth, with bodices of blue tulle and silver embroidery, and carried arm bouquets of pink astors.

The bride-groom was assisted by Mr. William Freeman of Newtonville, as best man, and the ushers were Dr. Henry Waters of Newton Centre, and Mr. P. Marlborough Smith of Auburndale.

There was a small informal wedding and there was no reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Schaschke left on a wedding trip to the west and will be at home after November first at 69 Prince street, West Newton.

FADEWEL DINNER

A "Farewell Dinner," was given last Friday by the members of the Chanbarite Club composed of employees of Chandler & Barber Company, Boston, to Mr. Ralph F. Barber who had enlisted in the 101st Engineer Regiment and expects to leave shortly for France.

Mr. Ralph Barber is the only son of Dr. Fletcher Barber, President of the Company, and past President of the National Retail Hardware Ass'n, well known throughout the Hardware trade of the Country.

Mr. Ralph Barber is a Director of the Company and was in charge and buyer of the Builders Hardware Contract Dept. of the store and was popular with all the employees.

There were present Mr. and Mrs. D. Fletcher Barber and their two daughters, Florence and Ruth, Mr. A. C. Bowman of Russell & Erwin Mfg. Co., and 22 members of the Chanbarite Club.

Mr. Barber wished for a safe voyage and safe and speedy return were extended personally by each one present. Five members of the Club have enlisted in the service of their Country and it is planned to send some token to each later when they are all at the front in France. Music furnished the entertainment of the balance of the evening.

UTILIZING GARDEN REFUSE

The fall bon-fires in backyards and gardens of fallen leaves, vines and corn stalks, are a great waste of material which might be made into valuable fertilizer for next year, said Wilfrid Wheeler, Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, in an interview given out last evening. The discarded shavings of fertilizer next season, foreshadowed by greatly increased prices now being quoted, imposes the strictest economy in all elements which may be used for this purpose.

Garden refuse should be classed under three heads as follows:

a. That which should be turned back into the soil.
b. That which should be burned.
c. That which should be composted.

Under the first heading are all the vines or plants either green or dead which have not been diseased during the growing season. Corn, tomatoes, pea vines, leaves from cabbage, celery, etc., are examples of these and should be turned or spaded into the ground just as soon as possible after gathering the crop.

Under b. all diseased plants, such as blighted potato vines. Bean plants which have rusted should be burned.

Under c. street sweepings free from oil. Should be collected and with other manure, if possible to obtain, should form the basis of the compost heap. Alternate layers of manure, street sweepings, and the leaves from trees or shrubs, together with vine clippings, pieces of sod, weeds, and even kitchen garbage, with some lime added, piled not higher than four feet and finally covered with soil is a good way to make the compost heap. This should be turned over just before freezing and all large pieces of material broken up. The pile should then be left over winter to be turned a couple of times in the spring.

To those who have access to clearings from ditches, peat, or meadow land, these materials, when treated with lime, will assist greatly in pre-servicing soil fertility.

All want garden land should be planted with rye just as soon as the present crops are harvested in order that there shall be no waste during the winter either by washing or thro excessive evaporation.

WAR BREAD

2 " corn meal
1 cup rye flour
1 tablespoon salt
1 " lard

Time

Merciless Father Time mows down scantily painted buildings. His scythe cuts deep into unprotected boards. He slashes constantly, day and night, all year round. He wins. The buildings lose.

Paint which will blunt the edge of Time's scythe, and be an armor protection for the buildings, is Dutch Boy White-Lead thinned with linseed oil and tinted any color desired.

This paint is all-weatherproof—proof against blistering sun, driving rain, piercing wind, snow and sleet. It will add long life and beauty to your buildings, and neither crack nor scale.

Come to us for paint materials of the lasting kind and for good advice on painting, for a better life.

The opening meeting of the Newton Branch of the Special Aid Society will be held in Channing Church parlors next Friday afternoon, September 28 at 3 o'clock.

This will be an unusually interesting meeting. Mrs. C. H. Patton, president of the Newton French Relief will preside, and after a few short reports showing the great amount of work done during the summer, Miss Esta Mae Barr, Field Secretary of the Special Aid Society, who leaves soon for France will speak on the work she expects to do there.

The fruits and vegetables which the public have so kindly contributed for canning will be on sale at Channing Church parlors on the afternoon of September 28 at 2.30 o'clock.

At 3 o'clock the sale will be discontinued that all may attend the open meeting of the Special Aid Society, which meets there, and at the close of the meeting the sale will be resumed and continued until all the cans are sold.

Modest prices will be charged.

This affords an excellent opportunity to purchase supplies of canned goods where there has been no opportunity to do canning in the home during the summer.

Remember the day—September 28.

NEWTON ALDERMEN

Debate Gasoline Permits and Fire Inspection of Private and Public Buildings.

The aldermen spent considerable time Monday evening debating the merits of a proposed new ordinance requiring the Chief of Fire Department to make reports of all examinations made under his direction of all public school and private buildings, and finally decided to require a record to be kept of such examinations of private buildings, a monthly report to the Mayor and Buildings Commissioner of all public buildings and to the school committee of all school buildings.

President Early was in the chair and Aldermen Cole, Kendrick, Harriman, Tuttle, and Goodwin were absent.

Numerous hearings were held at which no one appeared, including the laying out as public street and establishing building lines on Franklin street ext., Farlow road ext., Hobart road ext., Prentice road, or taking land for sewer in Westland avenue, and for Edison poles on Waverley avenue.

On the petition of F. L. Crawford for a public garage on Elmwood street, Mr. Leland Powers appeared in favor saying that this was not a new garage, but merely an enlargement of the present garage. The owners control the property on both sides and wish to cover over the present driveway, making offices near Elmwood street. Mr. John C. Cole appeared in opposition stating that he lived directly opposite and that the proposed new building would be an injury to his property. Mr. Cole presented a written remonstrance of other owners in the neighborhood.

Mayor Childs sent in the report of the Chief of Police on the Newton Constabulary and a petition of residents of Cemetery avenue for a change of name, for business and social reason to Homer avenue.

These jurors were drawn for service next month at Cambridge, Loren Penney, Lincoln street, Thos. M. Waters, Court street, William G. Soule, Farlow road, Fred Batstone, Webster street, Winthrop G. Norris, Bowdoin street, H. B. Budding, Crescent street, Paul Champagne, California street, and Wm. E. Litchfield, Bellevue street.

Petitions of George Devrix for wagon license, Albert R. Nevis for 1 truck, M. Farina for additional pool table, Mrs. Minnie Biggs for intelligence office license, and various permits for private garages were granted.

Other petitions were received for hearing on claim of W. H. Mague for damages caused by fire, J. E. Callahan for pool room at 332 Centre street, Tel. Co. for removal of poles on Auburn street, Edison Co. for attachments on Homer street, Jane Williams claim for personal injuries on the Flower Shop at 406 Centre street, Newton, which has been conducted by Mr. Neal for some years, and will cater to those who desire the best in plants and flowers. The shop will be supplied from conservatories in Auburn and all plants and flowers are grown under Mr. Riggs' personal supervision and will be guaranteed to be strictly fresh. Mr. Riggs has been in business in Auburn for the past seven years and has made a splendid reputation for fair and honest dealings.

Various betterment assessments on Avalon road were apportioned. On recommendation of committees, hearings were assigned on taking land for sewers in Waverley place, Hood street and Ashmont avenue, a sewer was ordered in Beacon street, Waban, bill of Dr. F. S. Keith of $3 ordered paid, $3000 additional voted for New Sidewalks, and small additions.

tional appropriations granted the Sealer of Weights, the Forestry and Buildings Dept.. $500 was granted for heating the Auburndale Hose House and $400 for painting the interior of the Barnard school.

Leave to withdraw was granted on sewer in Avalon road, Waban, on claim of James T. Swan on account of automobile. W. H. Barnes for pool room 332 Centre street and on public garage on Irving street by Oscar Johnson.

A public hearing was ordered held on permit for private garages at 835 Watertown street, for Charles Whittemore.

Gasoline licenses were granted W. H. Brayton Co., Beacon street, Waban, E. P. Hurd, Walnut street, Brae Burn Country Club, Fuller street, and a wagon license to John Lawson.

Alderman Clark opposed the report road ext., or taking land for sewer in Westland avenue, and for Edison poles on Waverley avenue.

The alderman claimed that this district was already well served with gasoline pumps and that the board ought to have some standard and not determine these matters on the grounds of good fellowship, the inconvenience to neighbors etc. Alderman Hagood said that the petitioner wanted this permit chiefly to keep gasoline for his own use and not so much for sale to the public. The district is sparsely settled and no one in the neighborhood objects. Alderman Hollis called attention to the fact that there was no hazard at issue and no danger to children. City Solicitor Bishop was called in to inform the board as to its authority in the matter, reference back to committee was refused by a vote of 7 to 9 and the permit granted.

An order was passed abating a Laundry brook assessment of many years ago on the Grace property on Pearl street.

The Board adjourned at 9.45.

FLOWER SHOP REOPENS

Mr. W. A. Riggs, the well known florist of Auburndale, has taken over the Flower Shop at 406 Centre street, Newton, which has been conducted by Mr. Neal for some years, and will cater to those who desire the best in plants and flowers. The shop will be supplied from conservatories in Auburn and all plants and flowers are grown under Mr. Riggs' personal supervision and will be guaranteed to be strictly fresh. Mr. Riggs has been in business in Auburn for the past seven years and has made a splendid reputation for fair and honest dealings.

RED CROSS WORK

What the Newton Branch is Doing in Various Lines

Finished woolen articles for the soldiers are being brought in to the Newton division of the Newton Branch of the Red Cross at the Channing Church parlors and many have been packed and forwarded. Newton has many knitters for the Red Cross but there is plenty to do for any who wish to work.

Thousands of trained nurses will be needed at the front and their departure is going to make the number left at home too small to meet all the demands for services that will be made. To meet the emergency women should learn the essentials of home nursing and home aid, and also in French are to be organized by the Newton Branch of the Red Cross under competent instructors. The classes will begin after October 1 and information in regard to them may be had at the Red Cross headquarters at the Newton Club or by telephoning to Newton North 2998.

The Newtonville Red Cross work room in the Masonic Building is a scene of activity every day, except Saturdays and Sundays, between the hours of ten and one. The women are making and forwarding hundreds of surgical dressings and could make many more, and all that can be made are needed, if more Newtonville women would lend a hand. New helpers are always welcome and an instructor is always in attendance to start them right in the work. One Newtonville gentleman gives a great deal of his time at the work room to picking oakum for use in the making of oakum pads. Any one who has time to give will find work to do at the Newtonville work room.

Some excellent posters have already been turned in by artists who have answered the call of the Newton Red Cross for posters to help waken the people of the city to its work and its needs and others are promised. Artists are asked to turn their posters in at the Headquarters at the Newton Club before October 1, or to send word to the Headquarters as to where the posters may be called for. Some artists who were away on vacation are understood to be at work on posters that may not be ready by October 1 and they are asked to inform Headquarters about what time they will be completed. It is hoped to soon be able to announce the time and place of the exhibition of the posters.

POWERS DEFEATS JARVIS

For Republican Nomination for Representative Allen and Weston Also Win.

The State Primary on Tuesday brought out about the usual number of votes notwithstanding the fact that the new enrollment law required each voter to express a party preference before receiving a ballot. The greatest interest in the primary was over the Republican nominees for Representatives, where Representative Jarvis was opposed by Mr. Leland Powers. It will be recalled that Mr. Jarvis after being defeated last year for the Republican nomination for Representative took out Democratic and Republican independent papers and was able by Democratic votes to win the election in November. This year he attempted to re-establish his Republican status by running again for the Republican nomination and was opposed by Mr. Leland Powers, one of the younger men in the city. The result was another repudiation by the Republicans of Mr. Jarvis' candidacy. Mr. Powers winning by 80 votes, the totals being Powers 1368, Jarvis 1288. Representatives J. Weston Allen and Thomas Weston, Jr., received 1913 and 1890 respectively. The most interesting feature of the campaign was the attempt of Mr. Jarvis to play both ends and the middle and to obtain the Democratic nomination for Representative, as well as the Republican. To do this a circular was sent out Saturday giving Mr. Jarvis' labor record and enclosing a sticker with the names of Jarvis, Alderman Justin E. McCarthy and Eugene E. Murphy. The names of McCarthy and Murphy were used without their consent and in the case of Alderman McCarthy without his knowledge. Mr. McCarthy, who is one of the cleanest young men in the city was justly indignant at this attempt to obtain votes for Jarvis from McCarthy's friends and made things decidedly warm and uncomfortable as soon as he learned of the trick. The facts were given as much publicity as possible on Monday and undoubtedly cost Mr. Jarvis many Republican votes. Mr. Jarvis received one of the Democratic nominations, former Lieut. John P. Tierney, who is now in camp at Ayer, being another and Messrs. McCarthy and Murphy were tied for third place. It is understood that both these gentlemen will withdraw. Governor McCall swept the city with a total vote of 1952 to 346 for Cushing, Auditor Cook had 1435 to 616 for Bruce and Attorney General Atwill had 1887 to 249 for Conrad. 2377 Republican votes were cast and 235 Democratic.

The following table gives the detailed vote for Governor and Representatives.

"OVER THERE"

The Thrill and the Hell of the Trenches, Described by an American Boy.

Sergeant Alexander McClintock of Lexington, Ky., and the Canadian Army Has Greeting Tale That Every American Will Read. For He Tells the Facts—Unadorned. Wounded, a Distinguished Conduct Medal Man, He Was Invalided Home, but Is Going "Out There" Again to Fight For Uncle Sam and His Allies. An Inspiring, Interesting, Personal Narrative, Full of the Spirit and Atmosphere of the Trenches.

No. 5. Wounded In Action.

By Sergeant Alexander McClintock, D. C. M., 57th Overseas Battalion, Canadian Gren. Guards

Copyright, 1917, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.

Sergeant McClintock, an American boy of Lexington, Ky., has seen service in France, was decorated for bravery, wounded and invalided home. He is telling his story, a thrilling one, and this is the fifth article of the series. In the preceding ones he described how he reached the front, fighting in Belgium, and then the great preparations for the Somme battle. In this installment he tells of conditions and describes first hand the fighting in that greatest of all battles.

OUR high command apparently meant to make a sure thing of the general assault upon the Regina trench, in which we were to participate. Three times the order to "go over the top" was countermanded. The assault was first planned for Oct. 19. Then the date was changed to the 20th. Finally, at 12:10 noon of Oct. 21, we went. It was the first general assault we had taken part in, and we were in a highly nervous state. I'll admit that.

It seemed almost certain death to start over in broad daylight, yet, as it turned out, the crossing of No Man's Land was accomplished rather more easily than in our night raids. Our battalion was on the extreme right of the line, and that added materially to our difficulties, first by compelling us to advance through mud so deep that some of our men sank to their hips in it and, second, by giving us the hottest little spot in France to hold later.

I was in charge of the second "wave," or assault line. This is called the "mopping up" wave, because the business of the men composing it is thoroughly to bomb out a position crossed by the first wave, to capture or kill all of the enemy remaining and to put the trench in a condition to be defended against a counterattack by reversing the fire steps and throwing up parapets.

Our artillery had given the Germans such a battering and the curtain fire which our guns dropped just thirty to forty yards ahead of us was so powerful that we lost comparatively few men going over—only those who were knocked down by shells which the Germans landed among us through our barrage. They never caught us with their machine gun sweeping until we neared their trenches. Then a good many of our men began to drop, but we were in their front trench before they could cut us up anywhere near completely. Going over I was struck by shell fragments on the hand and leg, but the wounds were not severe enough to stop me. In fact, I did not know that I had been wounded until I felt blood running into my shoe. Then I discovered the cut in my leg, but saw that it was quite shallow and that no artery of importance had been damaged. So I went on.

I had the familiar feeling of nervousness and physical shrinking and nausea at the beginning of this fight, but by the time we were halfway across No Man's Land I had my nerve back.

After I had been hit I remember feeling relieved that I hadn't been hurt enough to keep me from going on with the men. I'm not trying to make myself out a hero. I'm just trying to tell you how an ordinary man's mind works under the stress of fighting and the danger of sudden death. There are some queer things in the psychology of battle. For instance, when we had got into the German trench and were holding it against the most vigorous counterattacks the thought which was persistently uppermost in my mind was that I had lost the address of a girl in London along with some papers which I had thrown away just before we started over and which I should certainly never be able to find again.

Hold Regina Trench at Last.

The Regina trench had been taken and lost three times by the British. We took it that day and held it. We went into action with 1,500 men of all ranks and came out with 600.

I have said that because we were on the extreme right of the line we had the hottest little spot in France to hold for awhile. You see, we had to institute a double defensive, as we had the Germans on our front and on our flank, the whole length of the trench to the right of us being still held by the Germans. There we had to form a "block," massing our bombers behind a barricade which was only fifteen yards from the barricade behind which the Germans were fighting. Our flank and the German flank were in contact as fiery as that of two live wire ends. And meanwhile the Fritz tried to rush us on our front with nine separate counterattacks. Only one of them got up close to us, and we went out and stopped that with the bayonet. Behind our block barricade there was the nearest approach to an actual fighting hell that I had seen.

And yet a man who was in the midst of it from beginning to end came out without a scratch. He was a tall chap named Hunter. For twenty-four hours, without interruption, he threw German "eggshells" bombs from a position at the center of our barricade. He never stopped except to light a cigarette or yell for some one to bring him more bombs from Fritz's captured storehouse. He projected a regular curtain of fire of his own. I've no doubt the Germans reported he was a couple of platoons, working in alternate reliefs. He was awarded the D. C. M. for his services in that fight, and, though, as I said, he was unwounded, half the men around him were killed, and his nerves finished in such condition that he had to be sent back to England.

The Big Blunder and What It Cost.

One of the great tragedies of the war resulted from a bit of carelessness when a couple of days later the effort was made to extend our grip beyond the spot which we took in that first fight. Plans had been made for the Forty-fourth battalion of the Tenth Canadian brigade to take by assault the trench section extending to the right from the point where we had established the "block" on our flank. The hour for the attack had been fixed. Then headquarters sent out a countermanding order. Something wasn't quite ready.

The orders were sent by runners, as all confidential orders must be. Telephones are of no avail any more, as both our people and the Germans have an apparatus which needs only to be attached to a metal spike in the ground to "pick up" every telephone message within a radius of three miles. When telephones are used for anything important messages are sent in code. But for any vitally important communication which might cost serious losses, if misunderstood, old style runners are used, just as they were in the days when the field telephone was unheard of. It is the rule to dispatch two or three runners by different routes so that one at least will be certain to arrive. In the case of the countermanding of the order for the Forty-fourth battalion to assault the German position on our flank some officer at headquarters thought that one messenger to the lieutenant colonel commanding the Forty-fourth would be sufficient. The messenger was killed by a chance shot, and his message was undelivered. The Forty-fourth, in ignorance of the change of plan, "went over." There was no barrage fire to protect them, and their valiant effort was simply a wholesale suicide. Six hundred out of 800 men were on the ground in two and a half minutes. The battalion was simply wiped out. Several officers were court martialed as a result of this terrible blunder.

We had gone into the German trenches at a little after noon on Saturday. On Sunday night at about 10 o'clock we were relieved. The relief force had to come in overland, and they had a good many casualties en route. They found us as comfortable as bugs in a rug except for the internal and continuous bombing at our flank barrage. The Germans had concluded that it was useless to try to drive us out. About one-fourth of the 600 of us who were still on their feet were holding the trench, and the remainder of the 600 were having banquets in the German dugouts, which were stocked up like delicatessen shops with sausages, beer and champagne, a welcome change from bully beef. I could never learn to like their bread, however.

I got so happily interested in the spread in our particular dugout that I forgot about my wound until some one reminded me that orders required me to hunt up a dressing station and get an anti-tetanus injection. The Tommies like to take a German trench, because if the Fritz has to move quickly, as they usually do, we always find sausage, beer and champagne, a welcome change from bully beef. I could never learn to like their bread, however.

After this fight I was sent, with other slightly wounded men, for a week's rest at the casualty station at Contay. I rejoined my battalion at the end of the week. From Oct. 21 to Nov. 18 we were in and out of the front trenches several times for duty tours of forty-eight hours each, but were in no important action. At 6:10 on the morning of Nov. 18, a bitter cold day, we "went over" to take the Desire and also the Desire support trenches. These were the names given these trenches. We started from the left of our old position, and our advance was between Thiepval and Pozieres, opposite Grandcourt.

There was the usual artillery preparation and careful organization for the attack. I was again in charge of the "mopping up" wave, numbering 200 men and consisting mostly of bombers. It may seem strange to you that a noncommissioned officer should have so important an assignment, but sometimes in this war privates have been in charge of companies numbering 250 men, and I know of a case where a lance corporal was temporarily in command of an entire battalion. It happened on this day that, while I was in charge of the second wave, I did not go over with them. At the last moment I was given a special duty by Major John Lewis, formerly managing editor of the Montreal Star and one of the bravest soldiers I ever knew, as well as the best beloved man in our battalion.

The Troublesome Machine Gun.

"McClintock," said he, "I don't wish to send you to any special hazard, and so far as that goes, we're all going to get more or less of a dusting, but I want to put that machine gun which has been giving us so much trouble out of action." I knew very well the machine gun he meant. It was in a concrete emplacement, walled and roofed, and the devil in charge of it seemed to be descendants of William Tell and the prophet Isaiah. They always knew what was coming and had their gun accurately trained on it before it came. "If you are willing," said Major Lewis, "I wish you to select twenty-five from the company and go after that gun the minute the order comes to advance. Use your own judgment about the men and the plan for taking the gun position. Will you go?"

"I sure will," I answered. "I'll go and pick out the men right away. I think we can make those fellows shut up shop over there."

"Good boy!" he said. "You'll try, all right." I started away. He called me back. "This is going to be a bit hot, McClintock," he said, taking my hand. "I wish you luck, old fellow—you and the rest of them." In the trenches they always wish you the best of luck when they hand you a particularly tough job.

I thanked him and wished him the same. I never saw him again. He was killed in action within two hours.

"This is going to be a bit hot, McClintock."

after our conversation. Both he and my pal Macfarlane were shot down dead that morning.

When they called for volunteers to go with me in discharge of Major Lewis' order the entire company responded. I picked out twenty-five men, twelve bayonet men and thirteen bombers. They agreed to my plan, which was to get within twenty-five yards of the gun emplacement before attacking, to place no dependence on rifle fire, but to bomb them out and take the position with the bayonet. We followed that plan and took the emplacement quicker than we had expected to do, but there were only two of us left when we got there—Private Gossall, No. 177,063, and myself. All the rest of the twenty-five were dead or down. The emplacement was held by eleven Germans. Two only were left standing when we got in.

When we saw the gun had been silenced and the crew disabled Gossall and I worked round to the right about ten yards from the shell hole where we had sheltered ourselves while throwing bombs into the emplacement and scaled the German parapet. We rushed the gun position. The officer who had been in charge was standing with his back to us, firing with his revolver down the trench at our men who were coming over at another point. I reached him before Gossall and bayoneted him. The other German who had survived our bombing threw up his hands and mouthed the Teutonic slogan of surrender—"Mercy, kamerad!" My bayonet had broken off in the encounter with the German officer, so I picked up a German rifle with a bayonet fixed, and Gossall and I worked on down the trench.

The German who had surrendered stood with his hands held high above his head, waiting for us to tell him what to do. He never took his eyes off of us even to look at his officer, lying at his feet. As we moved down the trench he followed us, still holding his hands up and repeating, "Mercy, kamerad!" At the next trench angle we took five more prisoners, and as Gossall had been slightly wounded in the arm I turned the captives over to him and ordered him to take them to the rear. Just then the men of our second wave came over the parapet like a lot of hurdlers. In five minutes we had taken the rest of the Germans in the trench section prisoners, had reversed the fire steps and had turned their own machine gun against those of their retreating companies that we could catch sight of.

As we could do nothing more here, I gave orders to advance and re-enforce the front line. Our way led across a field furrowed with shell holes and spotted with bursting shells. Not a man hesitated. We were winning. That was all we knew or cared to know. We wanted to make it a certainty for our fellows who had gone ahead. As we were proceeding toward the German reserve trench I saw four of our men, apparently unwounded, lying in a shell hole. I stopped to ask them what they were doing there. As I spoke I held my German rifle and bayonet at the position of "guard," the tip of the bayonet advanced, about shoulder high. I didn't get their answer, for before they could reply I felt a sensation as if some one had thrown a lump of hard clay and struck me on the hip, and forthwith I tumbled in on top of the four, almost plunging my bayonet into one of them, a private named Williams.

McClintock Badly Wounded.

"Well, now you know what's the matter with us," said Williams. "We didn't fall in, but we crawled in."

They had all been slightly wounded. I had twenty-two pieces of shrapnel and some shell fragments imbedded in my left leg between the hip and the knee. I followed the usual custom of the soldier who has "got it." The first thing I did was to light a "fag" (cigarette), and the next thing was to investigate and determine if I was in danger of bleeding to death. There wasn't much doubt about that. Arterial blood was spurting from two of the wounds, which were revealed when the other men in the hole helped me to cut off my breeches. With their aid I managed to stop the hemorrhage by improvising tourniquets with rags and bayonets. One I placed as high up as possible on the thigh and the other just below the knee. Then we all smoked another "fag" and lay there listening to the big shells going over and the shrapnel bursting near us. It was quite a concert too. We discussed what we ought to do, and finally I said:

"Here, you fellows can walk, and I can't. Furthermore, you're not able to carry me because you've got about all of you can do to navigate alone. It doesn't look as if it's going to be any better here very soon. You all proceed to the rear, and if you can get some one to come after me I'll be obliged to you."

They accepted the proposition because it was good advice, and, besides, it was orders. I was their superior officer. And what happened right after that confirmed me forever in my early, Kentucky bred conviction that there is a great deal in luck. They couldn't have traveled more than fifty yards from the shell hole when the shriek of a high explosive seemed to come right down out of the sky into my ears, and the detonation which instantly followed shook the slanting sides of the shell hole until dirt in little dusty rivulets came trickling down upon me. Wounded as I was, I dragged myself up to the edge of the hole. There was no trace anywhere of the four men who had just left me. They have never been heard of since. Their bodies must have fallen right among them and simply blown them to bits.

It was about a quarter to 7 in the morning when I was hit. I lay in the shell hole until 2 in the afternoon, suffering more from thirst and cold and hunger than from pain. I only hoped the Germans wouldn't drive our men back over me. At 2 o'clock a batch of sixty prisoners came along under escort. They were being taken to the rear under fire. The artillery bombardment was still practically undiminished. I asked for four of the prisoners and made one of them get out his rubber ground sheet, carried around his waist. They responded willingly and seemed most ready to help me. I had a revolver (empty) and some bombs in my pockets; but I had no need to threaten them. They half dragged me toward the rear.

Carried to the Rear.

It was a trip which was not without incident. Every now and then we would hear the shriek of an approaching "coal box," and then my prisoner stretcher bearers and I would tumble in one indiscriminate group into the nearest shell hole. If we did that once we did it a half dozen times. After each dive the four would patiently reorganize and arrange the improvised stretcher again, and we would proceed. Following every tumble, however, I would have to tighten my tourniquets, and, despite all I could do, the hemorrhage from my wound continued to flow so profusely that I was beginning to feel very dizzy and weak. On the way in I sighted our regimental dressing station and signed to my four bearers to carry me toward it. I couldn't talk German. The station was in an old German dugout. Major Gilday was at the door. He laughed when he saw me with my own special ambulance detail.

"Well, what do you want?" he asked. "Most of all," I said, "I think I want a drink of rum."

He produced it for me instantly. "Now," said he, "my advice to you is to keep on traveling. You've got a fine special detail there to look after you. Make 'em carry you to Pozieres. It's only five miles, and you'll make it all right. I've got this place loaded up full, no stretcher bearers, no assistants, no adequate supply of bandages and medicines and a lot of very bad cases. If you want to get out of here in a week just keep right on going now."

As we continued toward the rear we were the targets for a number of humorous remarks from men coming up to go into the fight.

"Give my regards to Blighty, you lucky beggar," was the most frequent saying.

"Blit me," said one cockney Tommy. "There goes one o' the Canadians with an escort from the kaiser."

Another man stopped and asked about my wound.

"Good work," he said. "I'd like to have a nice clean one like that myself."

I noticed one of the prisoners grinning at some remark and asked him if he understood English. He hadn't spoken to me, though he had shown the greatest readiness to help me.

"Certainly I understand English," he replied, speaking the language perfectly. "I used to be a waiter at the Knickerbocker hotel in New York." That sounded like a voice from home, and I wanted to hug him. I didn't. However, I can say for him he must have been a good waiter. He gave me good service.

Of the last stages of my trip to Pozieres I cannot tell anything, for I arrived unconscious from loss of blood. The last I remember was that the former waiter, evidently seeing that I was going out, asked me to direct him how to reach the field hospital station at Pozieres and whom to ask for when he got there. I came back to consciousness in a clean hospital cot the next morning.

I realized as I lay on that cot I was out of the modern hell for a time, and my mind drifted back over the days just passed. Wounded men, grim reminders, were all about me, many of them worse off than I was. I had seen all kinds of bravery—British officers climbing calmly over the top with a monocle in their eyes and a cane in their hands into almost certain death, like a man getting into a tub of water where he knew he would get wet.

"Come on, let's go!" they would drawl. My respects to them.

And also to the enemy. The German officers fight to the last. Few surrender. My hat off to them. And the dead brave Major Lewis and poor Macfarlane, my close comrades. And only the other day I read Lance Corporal Glass, the man I carried in after our first bombing raid in Belgium, had been killed in action in France. I saw it in a Montreal paper.

They vaccinated me for everything while with the army—everything except against being shot. If a man could invent an antitoxin for that—well, he would be a hero.

The sixth article of this remarkable personal narrative will appear soon. It is entitled—
No. 6.—Decorated For Bravery; Home and Uncle Sam.

Look for the man on the roll

There are two ways of telling the real RU-BER-OID from its 300 imitators:

1. Genuine RU-BER-OID has the "Ru-ber-old Man" on the wrapper of every roll.
2. Genuine RU-BER-OID gives long and satisfactory service.

Many RU-BER-OID roofs laid 20 years ago are still giving perfect service.

Genuine RU-BER-OID, made by the Standard Paint Co., contains no tar, sand, wood fibre, or other cheap substitutes that quickly wear out.

The safest way is to look for the RU-BER-OID Man on the roofing that lasts.

NEW ENGLAND CHAMPION

Mr. Louis F. Curtis of Newton Highlands won the New England amateur championship in trap shooting last Saturday at the Wellington range by defeating Jay Clark, Jr., of Worcester, by a margin of two birds.

The 100-target match which decided the New England title was run off at the closing event of the two days' tourney over the Paleface Traps. Wind and light conditions were unfavorable.

The first of the four 25-bird rounds in the championship match was shot 25 "straight" by Curtis, while Jay Clark, the title holder, missed two targets. In the second 25, Curtis missed one bird and Clark returned a "straight" 25. The Brookline gun recovered his "head" on the birds in the third 25 and broke them "straight," while the Worcester gun missed one.

In the final round of 25 both men missed one bird each, leaving the margin of two birds between Curtis' total of 98 and the Worcester man's final of 96.

Curtis also won the high gun honors for the day, having, as on the opening day, Jay Clark, Jr., as his "runner up." Curtis' total for the day's program of 150 targets was 146 to 145 for Clark, Staples and Osborn.

Arthur E. Sibley of Newton won the New England open professional 100-target championship challenge match with a score of 96 in a field of 10 shooters.

Mr. Curtis won a place on the American team on August 31st by assisting in the defeat of the Canadian team at Toronto.

STATE GUARD CAMP

Company A of the 11th Regiment of the Massachusetts State Guard, the first company to be ready in the state, and now making its headquarters at the West Newton Armory, has been in camp at South Sudbury for the past week or ten days. The men went to camp on Saturday, September 15, and returned home last Sunday. The camp was voluntary on the part of the men and they were put through a hard course of drill, and camp duty under the direction of Capt. John C. Deville and Second Lieutenant Waldron H. Rand, Jr., who acted as First Lieutenant on account of the absence of Mr. Edwin M. Richards. Top Sergeant Chas. M. Ford acted as second lieutenant. About 50 men were in camp most of the time, many having their automobiles parked on the grounds and attending to their private-business part of the day.

The camp site was located on a slight rise of land giving a charming view of the Sudbury river valley, a double line of tents forming the usual company street, with the officers' tents and cook tent at the upper end. The pasture for drilling was not as smooth as a floor and the men did very good work in the company drill. All the usual camp duties were performed by the men, guard being maintained thruout the day and night, and every one taking his turn. On Saturday Mayor Childs, Aldermen Forknall and Hollis, General James G. White and officers of the Newton Constabulary and Mr. George M. Cox were guests of Capt. DeMille at lunch and witnessed the guard mount, and dress parade in the afternoon. Later in the day, Col. Pfaff and Major Rollins of the State Guard called and made an inspection of the company.

Private Henry W. Crowell was mess sergeant and fulfilled his duty to the great satisfaction of the company.

EDITORIAL

The public pays altogether too little attention to the automatic use of authority by the numerous boards who are carrying out the regulations of the War Department in the matter of drafting men for the new army. These boards are invested with very wide powers, absolutely necessary of course, to fulfill the serious duties with which they are charged, but it should also be expected that in the discharge of those duties, some common sense and regard for private rights should be considered. The work done by our Local Governing Board is a good example, as this board has done everything in its power to assist the individual and at the same time carry out the instructions of the national government.

The same thing cannot be said of the actions of the Board for District 5, which acts as a court of final judgment for this city, as well as other municipalities. District 5 Board has evidently taken the ground that it has all the rights of Congress, and intends that everyone having business with it shall thoroughly understand that fact. Letters to the Board remain unanswered and attempts to obtain information to which the public is clearly entitled, are met with discourtesy and often with impertinence by youthful stenographers and clerks. An instance of the poor work of this board was shown last week in this city, where the Local Board received word late Thursday afternoon of the names of several men who were ordered to be ready for Ayer at 10:15 the next morning. At the present time, only 31 men are on the list for the next call assigned for Friday, October 5th, when 59 men should be quota from this city. Just how much notice the remaining 28 men will receive is unknown, and their clear rights to ample notice to arrange their private affairs are being invaded by an arbitrary and different Board. It is most unfortunate that so much authority is in the hands of men of this stamp.

The result of the state primary was most satisfactory to the Republican party especially in the matter of the third representative. The nomination of Mr. Powers, or rather the defeat of Mr. Jarvis for the Republican nomination, clearly indicates that the Republicans of this city will not stand for party disloyalty and that any man who bolts the party nomination, will be held to answer by the rank and file. In addition to the fact that Mr. Jarvis was not a Republican in good standing, he further antagonized many of his Republican friends by making a bold and successful effort to obtain the Democratic nomination, and in doing so, was unscrupulous enough to make unauthorized use of the name of a well known Democrat as an aid to that nomination. Mr. Jarvis' political status, however, is now fixed, he is the regular Democratic nominee for Representative after failing in two successive efforts to obtain the Republican nomination. He can no longer be considered a member of the Republican party.

Water rates in this city, reduced last January by 10 per cent, are still too high, and should come down at least 25 per cent more. No public service corporation, with private capital would be allowed to use its earnings to increase Military Training yet that is just what is being done with over $30,000 annual excess profits from present water rates.

A friend asks us to give publicity to the following comment of the recent state primary:

"It is a rare gift to be able to be a candidate in the primaries of both the leading political parties at the same time, and failing to receive the nomination in one, to accept complacently, the other. Mr. Jarvis possesses this gift to a most eminent degree."

Save the Cranes and Rail Birds.

Two North American birds that are in great immediate need of protection are the white crane and his distant cousin, the Carolina rail, or sora. The former, once a denizen of the western prairies, is almost extinct, and the sandhill crane also seems in danger. The Carolina rail is in great demand as a table delicacy.—Exchange.

He Can Talk Business.

An associate of Charles M. Schwab remarked to me the other day that the steel man's very best story deals with his interview with Lord Kitchener soon after the war began.

Mr. Schwab was in London to get orders for Bethlehem. There are things, however, which do hedge about a lord that are difficult for an American manufacturer to negotiate.

For a long time it was hard sledding, and the ice seemed a yard thick in the British war office. Finally, after Mr. Schwab had stumbled half a dozen times over the "my lord," General Kitchener smiled and said:

"Suppose you sit down and tell me briefly as an American business man just what you can do."

As evidence that the king of Bethlehem was up to that task is the fact that he brought away in his inside pocket orders for supplies worth $128,000,000.

Moral—No matter what their stations in life, really big men have a common language.—Girard in Philadelphia Ledger.

Learning to Live.

You can't learn to live. All you can do is to keep on learning to live. That is because at each particular age we must live in a different way on account of the new conditions in which we find our constitutions. A young baby, having mastered all the intricacies of nursing bottle and rubber nipple, may thrive and be happy, but that only proves that it has learned to live with respect to that particular period of its existence. As it continues year after year in the school of life it will have to change its diet many times.

Never at any time would it be proper to hand you a diploma certifying that you have learned how to live. You graduate from the school of life only at the grave, and then the only thing that can be safely asserted is that you have learned how to die.—Life.

Pending the Verdict.

President John Powell of the Fore River Shipbuilding company said at a banquet in Boston:

"The shipping business was never so good as it is today. It will remain good, too, for years after the great war is over. They who prognosticate disaster for us have biased minds. They remind me of the major."

"The major had been hurt in a railroad accident, and a suit for damages had been instituted. As he clumped along Tremont street on his crutches two or three weeks later a friend shook him by the hand and said:

"Can't you get along without your crutches, major?"

"Well, my doctor says I can," the major chuckled, "but my lawyer says I can't."—Detroit Free Press.

Don't Let Bills Run—Pay Up.

Wonderful results have been obtained in communities where the pay up campaign has been tried out. With every one paying his or her bills there has been an immediate circulation of money. There has been a quickening of business. Persons who never dream of being dishonest often let bills run on. They are simply careless. They do not mean to defraud. This is a rapid age. Business deals are quickly consummated. Prompt payments have not kept pace with the times. To obviate this the pay up campaign was inaugurated. Do your share in the good work. Quick payments simplify bookkeeping. They add to the efficiency and stability of your business.

Many Uses For Wood.

Among the products made exclusively from wood are charcoal, without which we could have no formaldehyde; cellulose, which, converted into viscose, furnishes us with artificial sausage skins and artificial silk from which neckties, stockings, braids and tapestries are made.

Nine-tenths of all paper is made from wood. In one mill the mill waste of long leaf pine has been turned into a brown paper that has a variety of uses; cut into strips, it is spun into threads and woven into bags, matting, burlap, suit cases and furniture.—New York World.

African Giants.

There are many giants in Africa nine feet high. Some of them weigh 300 pounds and are strong enough to kill a panther at one blow. Perhaps you think such big fellows must be clumsy, but they are not. They can run faster than any horse, springing twelve to fourteen feet at a leap. This all sounds like a fairy story, but not so when you hear that these African giants are ostriches.

Save the Cranes and Rail Birds.

Two North American birds that are in great immediate need of protection are the white crane and his distant cousin, the Carolina rail, or sora. The former, once a denizen of the western prairies, is almost extinct, and the sandhill crane also seems in danger. The Carolina rail is in great demand as a table delicacy.—Exchange.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

Sleepy Time Story Concerning a Very Vain Little Bird.

HOW MISFORTUNE CAME TO IT

Member of a Large Family Became Proud Because It Thought Itself Smart—A Fateful Jump in the Barnyard—Pride Is Humbled.

Why, it is nearly dark, said Uncle Ben to little Ned and Polly Ann. I believe I will tell you a story about

THE SMART CHICKEN.

Once on a time there was a nice family of chickens living in a nice chicken yard in a charming town, and the chickens belonged to a dear little girl named Milly.

Milly was very fond of the chickens. She had given all of them nice names. I can't remember all the names, but there were Flossie and Fluffie and Tipple and Toppie and many others.

One of the others was Smokie. He was given that name because he looked so much like the gray smoke that came out of the kitchen chimney.

Smokie was really quite a pretty little chicken, and Milly gave him a great deal of petting. Perhaps that turned his head. He became a very vain little chicken. If Milly came out to the chicken yard and did not notice him he was much displeased.

So to make sure she would notice him Smokie, when his little wings would bear him, hopped up on the roof of one of the colony houses. When that didn't attract Milly's attention Smokie would flutter up on the fence.

"You'd best be careful," Mother Hen said, for Smokie had a reckless way of fluttering down from his perch.

Smokie tossed his little head. He thought he was quite able to take care of himself.

One day Milly came out to the chicken yard with a big pan of yellow looking stuff. She set it down on the ground and called the chickens to her.

Smokie must have been taking a nap on the fence, for he hadn't noticed her come in.

When she called: "Chick, chick, chick! Come, chick, chick, chick!" he turned and almost tumbled off the fence. Then he made a dive and landed right in the midst of the pan of yellow stuff.

It was cornmeal mush, which Milly had brought out nice and warm. Smokie landed right in the middle of it, and the more he tried to get out of the trouble he had, for it was very sticky.

Milly picked him out with much in his wings and in his feathers. "Oh, dear! Now you'll have to have a bath!" cried Milly.

So she took him into the house and washed him in warm water, and Smokie felt so queer and had to sit in the basket by the fire until he was dry. The next time Smokie will watch where he jumps.

Riddle.

Nine times my value is not a cent, be sure. Yet he who owns me certainly is not poor. I give to all their daily bread, and though I'm in a race And driven by wind and water, yet I never leave my place.

Answer.—A mill.

Both were wounded and treated in the same hospital before returning to Toronto. A studded collar was also presented to Bobs by the Princess Patricia.

An Unconscious Linguist.

Men have traveled safely, if not always placidly, throughout Europe with no other language than English at their command, but few have been so lucky as a correspondent of a New York paper whose English was actually taken for French by the French themselves.

While he spoke no language other than English, this gentleman had never had any trouble in traveling in Europe. In the only instance when he greatly longed to be able to speak another language he was helped out of a predicament in a most unexpected way. At a railway station in Paris he could not make the porters understand that he wanted his baggage. Finally he exclaimed:

"Oh, b'gosh!"

One of the porters replied, "Oul, ban-gazh, oul, oul, ban-gazh," and he soon produced the American's trunk. That was the first time he knew that the French have the word "baggage" and learned how they pronounce it.

Are These Studies Useless?

You, reader, who have been through the public school mill, ask yourself some questions. What good to you of what ultimate utility—are such things as apothecary's weight, allegation, aliquot parts, cube root, drama, the long method of the greatest common divisor, least common multiple, troch weight, unreal fractions, the apothecary, the objective complement, the objective adverb, the nominative absolute, geometric theorems, the gerund, etc.? What do you know about them today? Yet think of the hours and days and weeks that you pored over them when you were in the public schools! If they have brought you no ultimate utility, then they will bring your children no ultimate utility, and if they lack ultimate utility there can be no question that the time spent in their temporary, fleeting acquisition was "wasted childhood."—Grand Rapids Herald.

Mexico's Army of Bell Ringers.

It takes a great army of men to keep the church bells going in Mexico. It is estimated that in Mexico City alone there are more than 2,000 bell ringers regularly employed. On days of religious celebrations the number is augmented, as the ringing of the bells must be kept up almost constantly through the day and night on such occasions. The most striking feature of Mexican life to the casual visitor to Mexico is the noise of church bells. Every little hamlet and many of the ranches in the country have one or more Catholic churches, and each edifice is equipped with one or more bell towers. The great cathedral which stands near the national palace in Mexico City has sixteen of these towers.—London Globe.

Heavily Laden Sportmen.

An American sportsman tells of an incident he recently witnessed at the well known Shaba, or lower barrier, of Nadoo creek, in north China. A native shooter had his ginsal with him, a most uncanny looking weapon. That there might be no question as to its length, it was placed upright alongside the American. It exceeded his height by two feet two inches, making the piece of ordnance over eight feet in length. Sportsmen in this country sometimes complain of the weight of their guns—six and a half to seven and a half pounds. So it is astonishing to behold a Chinese hunter carrying a twenty-four pound gun all day long.

A CRY FOR HELP

The following poem was one of the features of the recent Associate Day at Newton Highlands, and is printed by request:

So far away this war! So far away
It seems the phantom of an ugly dream!
It cannot be! These tidings daily
Of courage, death and blood in ceaseless stream.
These hosts of earth, young, staunch
and unafraid, Beating in thousands upon Heaven's gate!
How short their lives, their hopes and aims so high.
We who are left behind how desolate.

They dared the danger of the submarine.
The monster menace of the majestic deeps;
Death dealing bombs from hidden aeroplanes.
That lurk in areas where the storm-
wind sleeps.
Not theirs the worst; for mangled,
moaning, maimed,
Their comrades toss on fevered beds
of pain.
The smitten air rent with their groaning cry.
"We are undone, our sacrifice was vain!"

"Our wounds are bleeding, broken
bones unstayed.
Send quick relief, before our life
be gone!"
And still they come from trench,
from field, from hill.
An anguished army, helpless, haggard, worn.
And so we heap the piles of snowy
gauze.
So soon to blush to scarlet with their life;
And roll and cut and fold with trembling hands.
Hasting to help, with loving eager strife.

How small our product, how immense their need.
Our handfuls but a sop to their demand.
Against the torrent of their dire want Our mite, a dribble of unstable
sand.
But still we cut and fold and roll and tie
The bandage, compress, drain and saying roll.
Hoping some one to help, some few to save.
To cheat Death of his hoped for daily toll.

Help us dear women, sisters, for we need Hundreds, where only ten are toiling now.
We need your time, your courage, and
your hands.
Your loyalty to help our solemn now.
That to the end, we will not cease
our aid.
Even altho' our best may seem but small.
For Right shall reign at last, we hope,
We know!
A God Omnipotent is Lord of All!

BRAE BURN CLUB

The Brae Burn Country Club is each year demonstrating more and more the fact that members and their guests are anxious to avail themselves of the beautiful Autumn season, at this favorite resort, which is conducted on the same complete and quiet plan which obtains in any refined home.

Altho social activities have been few during the past months, the house is well filled and this perfectly equipped Club is becoming more of an ideal country home than a mere resort.

Among the house guests who arrived recently are Mr. and Mrs.
George M. Forbes and Miss Bessie
Forbes of Waverley avenue, Newton, who spent the summer season at Megansett.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon H. Cress have returned from Brown's Camp, Centre
Lovell, Maine, where they spent the summer season and are registered for an indefinite stay at Brae Burn.

Dr. and Mrs. Frederic M. Briggs have closed their summer home at Pocasset and are among the week's arrivals at the Club.

Mr. William Eastbrook Jones who was a house guest at Brae Burn during the summer months has returned to his home in Newton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Nash who have been spending a few weeks at the Club, returned yesterday to their home in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. Ballou of Brookline are among the recent arrivals.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Foote of Cambridge are guests at Brae Burn
and have been entertaining Mrs.
Forbes Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Goodspeed
of Newbury street, Boston, are registered this week at the Club.

Mr. Joseph S. Cording who was a house guest during the summer has returned to his home on Lake avenue
Newton Centre.

Mr. Wilbur C. Cook who was a house guest at Brae Burn, has severed his connection with the Howard Watch Company and is now located

COPLY THEATRE—The Henry
Jewett Players will continue to act
"The Man Who Stayed at Home" at the Copley Theatre till further notice, the demand for seats being so great that the requests for its continuance cannot be refused. Its seventeenth week will therefore begin on Monday evening with every sign of large audiences throughout the remainder of the run. The reasons for the success of this play are not difficult to find. It is timely, it tells a thrilling story of events that might easily have happened during the early days of the war, and it is well acted.
These three factors contribute to make it one of the most popular dramas ever acted in Boston. It was put on at the Copley in June for a brief engagement, and the public has been coming to see it by the thousands ever since.

FLAG NIGHT

mandery, Knights Templar were publicly installed Tuesday evening at the Commander, George H. Dale, accompanied by the escort, marched into the asylum and presented the Stars and Stripes, Union Jack and French Tri-color to the commandery, the threefold gift being received by the head of the organization.

The United States service flag, on which was four stars, representing that number from Gethsemane who are now in the National service, was given by Commander Sleeper to the Commandery. The incident aroused great enthusiasm, as did the other flag ceremony.

A jewel of his new grade was bestowed on Past Commander Dale, who had charge of the dancing that ended the festivities.

REAL ESTATE

"The House Beautiful" Magazine
has purchased from the estate of Edward B. Towne a lot of land on Commonwealth avenue and Fuller street,
West Newton, opposite the Brae Burn
Country Club, containing 11,250 feet,
on which they are erecting a model single colonial house after plans and illustrations published in the September number of the magazine, especially designed by Davis & Brooks, architects, of Hartford, Conn. Miss Flora
McDonald, a well-known interior decorator, is planning the furnishing and decoration.

They propose to complete the house,
decorate and furnish it to the last detail as an example of modern, up-to-date construction, planning and decoration.

The transaction was negotiated thru the offices of Alvord Bros. and
George A. Cole.

The West Newton A. A. ball team won the base ball championship of the city last Saturday by defeating

The game was the fifth in a series played this fall, Upper Falls winning

A handsome silver cup is to be awarded the winner of the fall tennis tournaments which are now being held. The manager has received a large number of entries and strong competition is expected.

On Wednesday the three upper classes assembled in the hall for their first meeting of the year. Mr. Adams addressed them a few moments.
The game with Everett was a hard
and well played one for this time of the season but was not a very good example of what is sure to come. Although the team has lost the services of Wiley its veteran punter the line
is made up practically of last year's players. Captain Garrity is back for practice although favoring a banged knee and hoped to be in the remainder of the games.

Sixty-one girls reported for field
hockey practice Monday at Cabot Park. Three games are to be played beside the annual one with the alumnae.

Wednesday the senior class held a meeting in the assembly hall. It was voted to elect class officers by Australian ballot. It was announced that the election would take place as soon as Mr. Adams could have the ballots printed. As yet none of the lower classes have done anything toward electing officers.

Miss Etta Richmond of the English Department is detained from school on account of illness but expects to be back the latter part of October.
The boys returning from the farm camps at West Newton have gone brought the final registration up to about forty less than it was last year
at this date. These boys are a mighty healthy looking crowd and look as though they were entirely capable of making up the two weeks of school work they have lost.

John Lewis has been appointed editor-in-chief of the Dynamo. Bernard
Smith is to be business manager.
Other members of the staff will be chosen within a few days and the first issue of the paper will appear at an early date.

One of the most enjoyable features of school life at the Technical High
are the visits, of frequent occurrence, from graduates who have gone on from the school into business positions. These boys and girls bring words of encouragement and advice
and evidences of their own success that serve to impress upon the undergraduates the idea that school responsibilities and business affairs are closely related and that successful accomplishment of the work of the technical courses in school is certain to lead to larger achievements in business pursuits.

A pleasant surprise awaited the pupils on Wednesday morning when Eliot Stickney, president of the class of 1915, appeared in the person of Corporal Stickney of the 101st Ammunition Train Service, 26th Division, U. S. A. Corporal Stickney spoke to the freshmen and sophomores in the assembly hall. He referred to the country's need of educated men and women at this time and of the extraordinary business opportunities that will be theirs in the immediate future.
He spoke briefly of his army camp training and told the pupils not to regret the departure of their older brothers who have a duty to perform in France. Upon his return, Corporal
Stickney expects to resume his position with the McElwain Shoe Co.

FOOT BALL SEASON OPENS

Newton High opened its football season last Saturday by playing a tie
game with Everett High on Clafin Field, Newtonville, neither team scoring.

With the exception of the first period when Everett High managed to bring the pigskin down to the 14-yard line, where it was lost on a forward pass, which Leo Hughes intercepted, Newton had the better of the period. Newton High also had slightly the better of the argument in the second period, but in the third and fourth periods Everett High had the advantage.

The Newton High players were in the best physical condition, judging by the time out.
Both backfields fumbled, but luckily none of these slips proved fatal.
Capt. Henry Garrity of Newton High,
who has just returned from Princeton Prep. where he has been studying this summer, suffered an injury to his arm and was unable to play.

LIBRARIES FOR FIGHTING MEN!

The people of Great Britain provide libraries for their soldiers through no less than four volunteer organizations. Parcels containing libraries go forth to all parts of the world wherever the British soldier is fighting. Malta is receiving 7,000 volumes each month, Basrah 9,000, Alexandria 3,000, Salonika 2,000, and even units in East Africa, Italy and Russia are being supplied. The Admiralty has requested that the Library shall supply a volume for every sailor in the fleet.

Early in the war the Germans instituted a library service for all their soldiers and fitted out as a necessary part of the field equipment traveling libraries of about 2,000 volumes each, for every army corps. These were fitted up and sent out from the Royal Library in Berlin.

Hugh Britling wrote to his father: "We read, of course. But there never could be a library here big enough to keep us going. We can do with all sorts of books, but I don't think the ordinary sensational novel is quite the catch it was for a lot of them in peace times. Some break toward serious reading in the oddest fashion. I used to imagine that reading was meant to be a stimulant, but here it has to be an anodyne."

Henry Van Dyke says: "The MORALE of the Army is the hidden force which uses the weapons of war to the best advantage, and nothing is more important in keeping up this morale than a supply of really good reading for the men in their hours of enforced inactivity."

The libraries so far established are proving of incalculable value as an antidote for drinking, gambling and dissipation of all kinds, most of the men preferring a book to a pack of cards, a bottle of rum, or a set of dice. It is obvious that the task of every citizen who cannot fight is to help furnish these libraries.

George E. Vincent, President of the Rockefeller Foundation, writes: "A recent tour of twelve of the army and navy camps has served to deepen my conviction that there will be a very large demand for reading matter for all the training centers, and especially in the cantonments of the national or draft army. The provision of suitable libraries is one of the really fundamental things to be considered in connection with the organization and administration of these camps. The American Library Association has seen this opportunity, on having worked out a comprehensive, well-considered plan for supplying reading matter to all the army forces, both at home and abroad."

This is the week that the Association is making its appeal throughout the country in an endeavor to raise a million dollars for carrying on this great work. To-day is the time to check or contribute to any library or other in the city. Send or bring it now, and be a co-worker with the men at camp and overseas.

THAT BREACH OF PROMISE CASE

The Mock Court Trial to be given under the auspices of Tennyson Rebekah Lodge No. 119, I. O. O. F., in Odd Fellows Hall, West Newton, on Tuesday evening, October 2nd, promises to be an event of unusual interest.

Judging from newspaper reports of similar entertainments conducted by the present management, it would seem to be one of the most amusing things now offered for public patronage.

It will be, in the first place, an exact reproduction of a court scene in methods and procedure and on this account will be extremely interesting to ladies and other who have never attended a real trial.

Best of all will be the refined fun of the whole affair. With Hon. Edwin O. Childs presiding over the court, Mrs. Ella E. Mason appearing as the broken hearted plaintiff, Harvey C. Wood as the defendant, Col. Newton prosecuting the case and Mrs. Ada M. Farmer defending the accused, to say nothing of the brilliant array of court officers, witnesses and jurors, it is pretty certain we shall have all the comedy and reality of a court scene and enough wholesome fun to last a whole year.

The following are the rest of the participants:—

Clerk: Francis W. Sprague. Court Officer: F. J. Conolly. Witnesses: Miss Addie MacManus, Miss Margaret MacDougal, Archie A. Wilson, Charles M. Potter, Dr. Fred M. Lowe.

Jurors: Arthur Smith, Nephthi Forte, Ralph Card, James Seelye, Burt Rich, Henry F. Cate, Henry Buck, Charles Blair, William Carrigan, Chas. Peterson, Fred Woolway, Leslie Wood.

SHERBURN THEATRE—Direct from its season's run at the Bijou Theatre, New York, and with the New York company and production, the attraction at the Shubert Theatre, Boston, for an engagement of two weeks, beginning Monday, October 1st, will be Eugene Walter's latest melodramatic success "The Knife." Briefly, the story of "The Knife" concerns a high-bred Virginia girl who comes to New York on a shopping tour and suddenly and mysteriously drops out of sight. She is engaged to a prominent metropolitan surgeon who appeals to a young lawyer friend to find the girl. In order to avoid the publicity usually attendant upon such cases, the matter is withheld from the police, but the trail is taken up by the fiancé and the lawyer friend, who, after a series of thrilling situations, finally rescue the girl.

MAJESTIC THEATRE—At the Majestic Theatre, Tuesday evening, October 2nd, Daniel Frohman will present for the first time in this country the latest London melodramatic success—"Seven Days Leave." It is a modern military play and has been running at Henry Irving's Lyceum Theatre for the past eight months. This will be Mr. Frohman's first theatrical production in over seven years, and the public who remember his many past productions will welcome his return to the stage. The new play is a massive and elaborate scenic production and requires a large cast of players. Its theme is one of intrigue, conspiracy and diplomacy; and while not a war play, its chief incidents are those which have grown out of the great struggle.

A CRY FOR HELP

The following poem was one of the features of the recent Associate Day at Newton Highlands, and is printed by request:

So far away this war! So far away
It seems the phantom of an ugly
dream!
It cannot be! These tidings daily told
Of courage, death and blood in ceaseless stream.
These hosts of earth, young, staunch
and unafraid, Beating in thousands upon Heaven's
gate!
How short their lives, their hopes and
aims so high.
We who are left behind how deso-
late.

They dared the danger of the submarine.
The monster menace of the majestic deeps.
Death dealing bombs from hidden
aeroplanes.
That lurk in areas where the storm-
wind sleeps.
Not theirs the worst; for mangled,
moaning, maimed,
Their comrades toss on fevered beds
of pain.
The smitten air rent with their groan-
ing cry.
"We are undone, our sacrifice was vain!"

"Our wounds are bleeding, broken
bones unstayed.
Send quick relief, before our life
be gone!"
And still they come from trench,
from field, from hill.
An anguished army, helpless, hag-
gard, worn.
And so we heap the piles of snowy
gauze.
So soon to blush to scarlet with
their life;
And roll and cut and fold with trembling hands, Hasting to help, with loving eager
strife.

How small our product, how immense
their need.
Our handfuls but a sop to their demand.
Against the torrent of their dire
want
Our mite, a dribble of unstable
sand.
tie
The bandage, compress, drain and sparing roll.
Hoping some one to help, some few to
save.
To cheat Death of his hoped for
daily toll.

Help us dear women, sisters, for we need Hundreds, where only ten are toil-
ing now.
We need your time, your courage, and
your hands.
Your loyalty to help our solemn work.
That to the end, we will not cease
our aid.
Even altho' our best may seem but
small.
For Right shall reign at last, we hope,
We know!
And God Omnipotent is Lord of All!
—Maria D. Wiswell.

The Brae Burn Country Club is each year demonstrating more and more the fact that members and their guests are anxious to avail themselves of the beautiful Autumn
season, at this favorite resort, which
is conducted on the same complete
and quiet plan which obtains in any refined home.

Altho social activities have been few during the past months, the house is well filled and this perfectly ideal club is becoming more of an ideal country home than a mere
resort.

Among the house guests who arrived recently are Mr. and Mrs.
George M. Forbes and Miss Bessie
Forbes of Waverley avenue, Newton, who spent the summer season at Megansett.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon H. Cress have returned from Brown's Camp, Centre
Lovell, Maine, where they spent the summer season and are registered
for an indefinite stay at Brae Burn.

Dr. and Mrs. Frederic M. Briggs
have closed their summer home at Megansett and are among the week's arrivals at the Club.

Mr. William Estabrook Jones who was a house guest at Brae Burn, has returned the summer months has returned to his home in Newton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Nash who have been spending a few weeks at
home in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. Ballou of Brookline are among the recent arrivals.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Foote of Cambridge are guests at Brae Burn
and have been entertaining Mrs.
Forbes Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Goodspeed
of Newbury street, Boston, are registered this week at the Club.

Mr. Joseph S. Cording who was a house guest during the summer has returned to his home on Lake avenue
Newton Centre.

Mr. Wilbur C. Cook who was a house guest at Brae Burn, has severed his connection with the Howard Watch Company and is now located in Chicago.

COPLEY THEATRE—The Henry
Jewett Players will continue to act
"The Man Who Stayed at Home" at the Copley Theatre till further notice. The demand for seats being so great that the requests for its continuance cannot be refused. Its seventeenth week will therefore begin on Monday evening with every sign of
large audiences throughout the remainder of its run. The reasons for the success of this play are not difficult to find. It is timely, it tells a thrilling story of events that might easily have happened during the early days of the war, and it is well acted.
These three factors contribute to make
it one of the most popular dramas
ever acted in Boston. It was put on at the Copley in June for a brief engagement, and the public has been coming to see it by the thousands ever since.

A United States service flag, on stowed on Past Commander Dale, who

the festivities.

mediate families, Mrs. Adele R. Disbrow of New York and Frank Boyce Tupper of Boston were married at noon Saturday at the residence of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Warner Marshall, Hampshire street, West Newton. Rev.

clergyman, and there were no bridal attendants. The bridegroom, Mr. Tupper, formerly lived in New York, but more recently has lived in Boston, making his home at the Boston City Club. He is vice-president of Marshall

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

A handsome silver cup is to be awarded the winner of the fall tennis tournaments which are now being held. The manager has received a large number of entries and strong competition is expected.

On Wednesday the three upper classes assembled in the hall for their first meeting of the year. Mr. Adams
addressed them a few moments.
The game with Everett was a hard
and well played one for this time of the season but was not a very good example of what is sure to come. Although the team has lost the services
of Wiley its veteran punter the line
is made up practically of last year's players. Captain Garrity is back for practice although favoring a banged knee and hoped to be in the remainder of the games.

Sixty-one girls reported for field
hockey practice Monday at Cabot
Park. Three games are to be played beside the annual one with the alumnae.
Wednesday the senior class held a meeting in the assembly hall. It was voted to elect class officers by Australian ballot. It was announced that the election would take place as soon
as Mr. Adams could have the ballots printed. As yet none of the lower classes have done anything toward electing officers.
Miss Etta Richmond of the English Department is detained from school
on account of illness but expects to be back the latter part of October.
The boys returning from the farm camps at Walpole and Weston have brought the final registration up to about forty less than it was last year
at this date. These boys are a mighty healthy looking crowd and look as though they were entirely capable of making up the two weeks of school
work they have lost.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

John Lewis has been appointed editor-in-chief of the Dynamo. Bernard
Smith is to be business manager.
Other members of the staff will be chosen within a few days and the first issue of the paper will appear at an early date.

One of the most enjoyable features
of school life at the Technical High
are the visits of frequent occurrence, from graduates who have gone out
from the school into business positions. These boys and girls bring words of encouragement and advice
and evidences of their own success
that serve to impress upon the undergraduates the idea that school responsibilities and business affairs are closely related and that successful accomplishment of the work of the technical courses in school is certain to lead to larger achievements in business pursuits.

A pleasant surprise awaited the pupils on Wednesday morning when Eliot
Stickney, president of the class of 1915, appeared in the person of Corporal Stickney of the 101st Ammunition Train Service, 26th Division, U. S. A. Corporal Stickney spoke to the freshmen and sophomores in the assembly hall. He referred to the country's need of educated men and women at this time and of the extraordinary business opportunities that will be then in the immediate future.
He spoke briefly of his army camp training and told the pupils not to regret the departure of their older brothers who have a duty to perform
in France. Upon his return, Corporal
Stickney expects to resume his position with the McElwain Shoe Co.

FOOT BALL SEASON OPENS

Newton High opened its football season last Saturday by playing a tie
game with Everett High on Clafin
Field, Newtonville, neither team scoring.

With the exception of the first period when Everett High managed to bring the pigskin down to the 14-yard line, where it was lost on a forward pass, which Leo Hughes intercepted, Newton had the better of the period. Newton High also had slightly the better of the argument in the second period, but in the third and fourth periods Everett High had the advantage.

The Newton High players were in the better physical condition, judging
by the time out.

Both backfields fumbled, but luckily none of these slips proved fatal.
Capt. Henry Garrity of Newton High,
who has just returned from Princeton Prep. where he has been studying this summer, suffered an injury to his ankle and was unable to play.

Champagne, Doherty and Macomber were the three headlines in the Newton High line. The former was into every play and his tackling was hard and sure.

Newton High played the following men—McCoy, Bryson, Ie; Champagne, Ie; Spalding, Ie; Macomber, e; Mohr, e; Gulan, rt; Doherty, re; Nutting, qb; Hughes, lb; Garrity rhb; Fiske, Harmon, fb.

REAL ESTATE

"The House Beautiful" Magazine
has purchased from the estate of Edward B. Towne a lot of land on Commonwealth avenue and Fuller street,
West Newton, opposite the Brae Burn
Country Club, containing 11,260 feet,
on which they are erecting a model
single colonial house after plans and illustrations published in the September number of the magazine, especially designed by Davis & Brooks, architects, of Hartford, Conn. Miss Flora
McDonald, a well-known interior decorator, is planning the furnishing and decoration.

They propose to complete the house,
decorate and furnish it to the last detail as an example of modern, up-to-date construction, planning and decoration.

The transaction was negotiated
thru the offices of Alvord Bros. and
George A. Cole.

The West Newton A. A. ball team won the base ball championship of the city last Saturday by defeating the Upper Falls A. A. on the Norambega Park diamond by the score of 6 to 1.

The game was the fifth in a series played this fall, Upper Falls winning two.

THE MAN OUT THERE

By M'Allister Coleman
(Written for "Our Boys in France Tobacco Fund")

There's a man out there who fights for you
And the things that you hold true.
There's a cause out there you're backing up
With all that's best in you.

Now, here's a need of the man out there—
A need you can easily fill—
Come, cram his pouch with the smokes he loves;
Kick in with a dollar bill.

For it's not the crash of the heavy gun
Nor the strain on the man who serves;
It's lacking a smoke when it's smoking time
That frazzles a soldier's nerves.

Though there isn't much that we can do,
Back home, safe out of the muck,
We can sure send smokes, and we'll do it, too—
Let them count on that from us.

Send in your bit to pay for smokes for American soldiers. England and France is sending tobacco to their men. We must supply our fighters. "Our Boys in France Tobacco Fund," has been organized to furnish this tobacco to Americans. Every dollar you contribute buys tobacco with a retail value of $1.80, divided into four packages. In each package is a postcard addressed to the donor. On this card the soldier who receives your gift will send you a message of thanks from the trenches.
Send in that dollar NOW to the Newton Graphic.

Secret of His Success.

"He is a splendid workman. One secret of it, outside of his skill, is the good care he gives his tools. He keeps every one in the best condition, ready for instant use. Another secret is the care he takes of his best tools—brain, nerves and muscles. He never dulls them with liquor or tobacco, foolish or harmful pleasures, dissipation or carelessness. He gets the best service out of them and the tools which perform their bidding."—Exchange.

Why Watches Lose Time.

The reason for variations in the time-keeping qualities of a well-regulated watch have been the subject of investigation by scientists recently. The popular theories that animal magnetism and bodily temperature are causes are denied by the investigators. Rather, different rhythms of movement as well as the angle at which a watch hangs, are given as real cause for irregularities.—Auburn Advertiser-Journal.

NEWTON CONSTABULARY

Chief Mitchell Reports to the Aldermen on its Organization and Work

Chief Fred M. Mitchell has made the following report on the Newton Constabulary in response to a recent order of the Aldermen:

Shortly after the declaration of war, numerous citizens in each ward of the City, volunteered their services for the purposes of local defence or police duty in time of disturbance. Under the efficient leadership of General James G. White, the persons so volunteering were organized into local companies with regular elected officers and experienced drill masters. At first it was thought that these companies might be drilled and armed under the provisions of Chapter 327 of the Acts of 1917 which permitted such organizations with the approval of the Adjutant General, to drill and bear arms. I was advised by the City Solicitor of an opinion of the Attorney General holding that Chapter 327 of the Acts of 1917 repealed Chapter 300 has probably prevented organization and drilling under the general statute. Before this opinion was given by the Attorney General, the various companies had been sworn in as special policemen of the City of Newton to serve without compensation. As special policemen, the companies can in time of emergency or in preparation for emergency, be armed as may be directed by the Chief of Police.

To avoid confusion with the Newton State Home Guard, which is organized under the provisions of Chapter 148 of the Acts of 1917, the local companies or units are known as the Newton Constabulary. As you are aware, a certificate has been given by me to each member of the Constabulary wherein it is stated: "By virtue of the authority granted to me by law and subject to the approval of the Mayor, I hereby appoint you a POLICE OFFICER OF THE CITY OF NEWTON (without compensation), with all the powers of a constable, except the power of serving and executing civil process. Your term of office will continue until one month after the treaty of peace is signed with all powers which are engaged in war with the United States of America, or you are removed by the Chief of Police or by the Mayor." The total enrollment to date is over 850 and the enrollment in the various companies range from 70 to 200. Each company has drilled at least once and some twice a week since early in the Spring, and have become much more proficient in the execution of elementary military manoeuvres of course, owing to the inability to obtain rifles for drilling purposes, have been confined to close order and more recently to open order work. Each of the companies, however, had the advantage of drilling with rifles at the army for two or three weeks prior to the departure of Company C. Many of the companies have, at their own expense, visited the Wakefield Rifle Range and practiced there in rifle and revolver shooting. Some of the scores made have been equal to those required for marksman, sharpshooter and even expert rifle shots in the army.

There has been, of course, some falling off during the Summer months in the attendance upon drill but at least fifty per cent of each unit have turned out even on the hottest nights and it is safe to say that in case of an emergency, these men could be called upon by the City authorities to render prompt and efficient assistance.

It is the expectation that drilling will continue during the Winter months and is hoped that the companies may be able to use the armory for drill and for target practice.

In closing I wish to refer to the enthusiasm, self-service and the high sense of civic duty which has been displayed by the members of the Constabulary and further, to the potential value of this large body of men as a possible military force within and for the State if conditions under this war crisis should arise to invite this attention.

The question of having the Constabulary armed for the better exercise of military drill and manoeuvres seems to depend upon the approval of the State authorities. I am informed that Springfield rifles 45-70 can be procured from a concern in St. Louis at a price of $7.50 each. This will involve an expenditure of $6,375.00 which will constitute the total enrollment when the Chestnut Hill unit is sworn in, of $7,500. It is probable that at least one-half of this amount could be raised by subscriptions from members of the Constabulary.

that village and are turning out a thousand surgical dressings a day. The Red Cross flag that flies at the house is, like the Red Cross flag everywhere, an invitation to all to turn in and help along Red Cross work.

He will be gratefully received help to carry on a work that will grow as the winter goes on. Thanks to recent gifts the Newton Red Cross is able to announce that it has now on hand wool to give out to those who are willing to knit.

BURGLARS HERE

Burglars raided the Elliot section of Newton Highlands Tuesday morning and visited a dozen houses on Boylston street, Harrison street, Bacon place, Dickerman road, Margaret road and other streets. In no case did the thieves force their way into a dwelling, but in eight houses where windows on the first floor were found open, they entered and ransacked the lower rooms, not, however, going above the street floors. From the nature of the plunder taken the police are somewhat puzzled. The thieves showed skill in avoiding detection, but they took articles of minor value. In all, they did not get more than $20 in money, the rest of their booty comprising suits of clothing, cut-glass dishes, children's banks, mileage books, shoes, hats, books of trading stamps, etc.

One of the houses entered was that of patrolman Henry Bates of the Newton Police Department, who lives at 20 Harrison street. Bates was asleep, having just completed a tour of duty, and heard nothing. Two pairs of shoes and a hat were taken from his home.

In the house of Stephen J. Heinrich, 9 Margaret road, clothing was taken; from Fred W. Gates' home, at 15 Bacon place, an iron bank, fairly well filled with pennies was stolen, as well as some cut glass.

All the houses were visited between midnight and 5 in the morning. At 5.15 the first alarm was telephoned to Police Headquarters and from then until 8 the calls came. Police went in automobiles and searched the neighborhood. They found men's foot prints around some houses and learned that in one case the burglars entered the dwelling, pulled down the shades and lighted the gas to aid in their search while members of the household were slumbering on a sleeping porch a dozen feet away.

W. C. T. U. MIDDLESEX COUNTY CONVENTION

At the Annual Convention held at Watertown, Wednesday, Mrs. Abby M. Rolfe of Concord, who has been president since the organization of the county over 40 years ago stated that she was unable to serve longer and she was elected honorary president. Dr. N. Louise Rand of West Newton, who has been vice-president at large was elected president. Dr. Rand, who is state superintendent of Anti-Narcotics is also county superintendent of the Young People's Branch in which she is much interested. She has an Italian V. P. B. and Loyal Temperance flag at 49 Tilton street, Boston, and they have done very good work in oratorical contests.

Monday evening, Oct. 8, at state headquarters in Gleason Hall, 541 Massachusetts avenue near Tremont street, the Italian young people will hold a gold medal oratorical contest and a silver medal musical contest. Admission free. Those who can attend will be more than interested and repaid, and will encourage those who gratuitously give their service to the work among those who soon will be citizens although their parents may not be able to be.

H. Miss Mary Gormley, as maid of honor, was the bride's only attendant. Walter Slattery was best man. A wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony at the home of the bride.

Miss Slattery has been prominent in Newton theatricals since she made her first public appearance at the age of six. She is a graduate of Newton High School, of the Gresley School of Elucation and of the Emerson School of Expression.

Mr. Remick is a graduate of Tech '10. He is manager of the electric light department and superintendent of the water department at Littleton, where they will make their home.

SUNLIGHT HOP

The usual sunlight hop will be held at the State Armory as in years gone by, on Columbus Day from 2 P. M. till midnight. This year the dance has a new significance as the purpose behind the dance is one which should appeal to every citizen of Newton, who has the interests of the boys of Company C at heart. In the past the money secured from affairs of this kind went to the company fund to be spent on the members for social purposes in one form or another. This year the profits will serve a more serious and very necessary end, namely, securing for the men of the company, left behind, through no fault of their own, a few comforts that have been denied them, through the loss of the company fund, which resulted from the transfer of so many men to another regiment. The men have found themselves practically without funds, with which to buy even necessities, and as they will probably be called away from Framingham within a short time, this is the last chance to put some money away for the "rainy days" that are too numerous in the Army. The men have entered with enthusiasm into the work of making the dance a success, and have obtained promises of assistance from prominent men all over the city, as well as the cooperation of several young ladies, who have kindly offered to sell tickets, and make cake to be served with the ice cream. Brigadier General James G. White has approved the plan to have a squad from each unit of the Newton Constabulary compete in a prize drill, for which a suitable cup has been purchased. The prize drill will take place at 9 P. M. and the judges will be Brig. Gen. J. G. White and 1st Lieut. Eli C. Benway, the newly assigned and already popular commander of Company C.

Wind
With every howl, the wind tries to loosen the paint from your home. It drives its way into the cracks and crevices. First it dries the exposed wood and then swirls in the torrents of rain. Decay follows the soaking and spreads under the painted parts.

Paint which will prevent this destruction is made of Dutch Boy White-Lead mixed with pure linseed oil. Either pure white or tinted any desired color, it offers a smooth, unbroken surface which neither wind nor rain nor sun can crack or scale.

Examine your buildings closely and let us know if there is need of paint. We can help you.

LIBRARIES FOR FIGHTING MEN!

The people of Great Britain provide libraries for their soldiers through no less than four volunteer organizations. Parcels containing libraries go forth to all parts of the world wherever the British soldier is fighting. Malta is receiving 7,000 volumes each month. Basrah 9,000, Alexandria 3,000, Salonika 2,000, and even units in East Africa, Italy and Russia are being supplied. The Admiralty has requested that the Library should supply a volume for every sailor in the fleet.

Early in the war the Germans instituted a library service for all their soldiers and fitted out as a necessary part of the field equipment traveling libraries of about 2,000 volumes each, for every army corps. These were fitted up and sent out from the Royal Library in Berlin.

Hugh Britling wrote to his father: "We read, of course, but there never could be a library here big enough to keep us going. We can do with all sorts of books, but I don't think the ordinary sensational novel is quite the catch it was for a lot of them in peace times. Some break toward serious reading in the oddest fashion. I used to imagine that reading was meant to be a stimulant, but here it has to be an antidote."

Henry Van Dyke says: "The MORALE of the Army is the hidden force which uses the weapons of war to the best advantage, and nothing is more important in keeping up this morale than a supply of really good reading for the men in their hours of enforced inactivity."

The libraries so far established are proving of incalculable value as an antidote for drinking, gambling and dissipation. All kinds, most of the men preferring a book to a pack of cards, a bottle of rum, or a few of the ordinary sensational novels.

George E. Vincent, President of the Rockefeller Foundation, writes: "A recent tour of twelve of the army and navy camps has served to deepen my conviction that there will be a very large demand for reading matter for all the training centers, and especially in the cantonment, the military or draft army. . . . The provision of suitable libraries is one of the really fundamental things to be considered in connection with the organization and administration of these camps. The American Library Association is to be congratulated upon having seen this opportunity, on having worked out a comprehensive, well-considered plan for supplying reading matter to all the army forces, both at home and abroad."

This is the week that the Association is making its appeal throughout the country in an endeavor to raise a million dollars for carrying on this great work. To-day is the time to send checks or contributions to any library or bank in the city. Send or bring now, and be a co-worker with the men at camp and overseas.

THE BREACH OF PROMISE CASE

The Mock Court Trial to be given under the auspices of Tenynson Rebekah Lodge No. 119, I. O. O. F., in Odd Fellows Hall, West Newton, on Tuesday evening, October 2nd, promises to be an event of unusual interest. Judging from newspaper reports of similar entertainments conducted by the present management it would seem to be one of the most amusing things now offered for public patronage.

It will be, in the first place, an exact reproduction of a court scene in mediaevals and procedure and on this account will be extremely interesting to ladies and others who have never attended a real trial.

Best of all will be the refined fun of the whole affair. With Hon. Edwin O. Childs presiding over the court, Mrs. Ella E. Mason appearing as the heartless plaintiff, Harvey C. Wood as the defendant, Col. Nestor C. Wood as the prosecutor, and Mrs. Ada M. Farmer defending the accused, to say nothing of the brilliant array of court officers, witnesses and jurors, it is pretty certain we shall have all the comedy and reality of a court scene and enough wholesome fun to last a whole year.

The following are the rest of the participants:

Clerk, Francis W. Sprague.

Court Officer, Frank Connolly.

Witnesses: Miss Addie MacManus, Miss Margaret MacDougall, Archie A. Wilson, Charles M. Potter, Dr. Fred M. Lowe.

Jurors: Arthur Smith, Nephthi Forte, Ralph Card, James Seelye, Burt Rich, Henry F. Cate, Henry Buck, Charles Blair, William Carrigan, Chas. Peterson, Fred Woolway, Leslie Wood.

SHUBERT THEATRE—Direct from its season's run at the Bijou Theatre, New York, and with the New York company and production, the attraction at the Shubert Theatre, Boston, for an engagement of two weeks, beginning Monday, October 1st, will be Eugene Walter's latest melo-dramatic success "The Knife."

Briefly, the story of "The Knife" concerns a high-bred Virginia girl who comes to New York on a shopping tour and suddenly and mysteriously drops out of sight. She is engaged to a prominent metropolitan surgeon, who appeals to a young lawyer friend to find the girl. In order to avoid the publicity usually attendant upon such cases, the matter is withheld from the police, but the trail is taken up by the fiance and the lawyer friend, who, after a series of thrilling situations, finally rescue the girl.

MAJESTIC THEATRE—At the Majestic Theatre, Tuesday evening, October 2nd, Daniel Frohman will present for the first time in this country the latest London melodramatic success—"Seven Days Leave". It is a modern military play and has been running at Henry Irving's Lyceum Theatre for the past eight months. This will be Mr. Frohman's first theatrical production in over seven years, and the public who remember his many past productions will welcome his return to the stage. The new play is a massive and elaborate scenic production and requires a large cast of players. Its theme is one of intrigue, conspiracy and diplomacy; and while not a war play, its chief incidents are those which have grown out of the great struggle.
